Sen. Humphrey Is Selected as Johnson's 'Mate'

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 (UPI)—President Johnson, a handpicked and unabashed liberal as his running mate, sketched the battle lines today for the impending collision with the GOP's conservative Goldwater-Miller team. Johnson was handed the Democratic party's presidential nomination by acclamation last night by a happy, howling convention which went on to ratify his choice of Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as the vice presidential nominee.

It all went according to the script laid down by Johnson, although he insisted to the end that it was not until Wednesday afternoon that he finally tapped Humphrey — the "best man in America" for the job.

Both nominees go before the delegates tonight to make their formal acceptance speeches and set the course for the campaign which they confidently hope will give Johnson a full four-year term in the White House and on his own.

The President was the typical candidate in the hours preceding his return to Washington last night. He shook hands and flashed his Texas smile at countless delegates and well-wishers, held news conferences almost nonstop and barely concealed his impatience to get on with the campaign.

He made clear that the campaign against Barry M. Goldwater and William E. Miller would be an active one when a reporter asked how much politicking he would assign to Humphrey.

"All he can take," the President flashed back.

He said he and Humphrey planned to take their wives to Johnson's Texas ranch this week-end "and there in the shade of the live oaks on the banks of the Pedernales, we'll talk about our duty for the next few weeks."

The President's statements and actions left no doubt they will make every effort to convince the voters that the nation's security and well-being are safer in Democratic hands.

Alabamans Withdraw From Meet

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Alabama delegates announced last night they were withdrawing from the Democratic national convention. But, at least one delegate refused to go along with the decision and said he would attempt to take his seat.

The Alabama delegates said in a prepared statement they were "unwilling to accept further insults and the embarrassment" from the convention.

The decision was made in a closed caucus of the majority of delegates who have refused to sign loyalty pledges demanded by the credentials committee.

However, delegate Harry Clark said he did not vote with the majority and would try to attend despite reports that members of the sergeant-at-arms staff were holding the Alabama seats for pledge-signers only.

Eugene (Bull) Connor, Alabama's national committeeman, also headed for Convention Hall. He stormed out of the meeting before it ended.

Connor's status was in doubt.

Idaho Group Was Unable To Use Signs

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 (UPI) — Idaho's delegation to the Democratic convention joined in acclaiming Lyndon B. Johnson a presidential candidate last night but was unable to demonstrate with its 26 signs.

So crowded was the convention floor during the uproar when the President was nominated for a full term in office that the Idahoans were unable to unroll a 15-foot sign on its two standards.

Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., managed to push his way to within 30 feet of the podium carrying the Idaho triangular standard before he was forced to give up the move. Ralph Litton, St. Anthony, delegation vice chairman, and Page Craig Carver were the only Idahoans able to keep up with White.

There was one Idahoan on the platform with the president, however. He was Irving Hoff, a native of McCall and brother of former Republican state Sen. Ted Hoff, Horseshoe Bend. Irving Hoff was a former administrative assistant to Sen. Warren Magnuson, D., Wash.

Memory of 3 Leaders to Be Honored

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 27 (AP) — The Democratic party honors the memory tonight of three leaders who died since its last national convention: Sam Rayburn, Eleanor Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy.

Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the late president, will introduce a film that depicts the achievements of Kennedy from his inaugural until his assassination last Nov. 22.

U. N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson will pay tribute to Mrs. Roosevelt, the widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. She died on Nov. 7, 1962.

James A. Farley, former postmaster general and political chieftain during the Roosevelt era, will lead the memorial to Rayburn, the house speaker who died on Nov. 16, 1961.

Mrs. Kennedy Is Honored At Reception

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27 (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the assassinated president, came here today for a reception in her honor to which 5,000 Democratic convention delegates were invited.

The affair is so big, it had to be divided into three shifts over a five-hour period from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The reception, given by W. Averell Harriman and Mrs. Harriman, longtime friends of the Kennedys, precedes a convention session at which a memorial service will be held for the late president.

Mrs. Kennedy will not be there, however.

Spokesmen for the former first lady said the memorial, at which a film will highlight Kennedy's administration, would be too much of an emotional ordeal for her.

Mrs. Kennedy flew in just for the day and will return later to Newport, R. I., where she has been spending part of the summer at her mother's farm estate.

Many of the Kennedy clan and members of Kennedy's New Frontier family have had a hand in the plans for the afternoon reception in her honor.

Laughs

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 (UPI)—President Johnson got his best laughs at the Democratic convention last night when he spoofed Republicans about columnists and commentators and himself about electric lights.

"My fellow Americans. My fellow Democrats, columnists and commentators," the President said. "It is wonderful to be here with you tonight, but do we need all of these lights on?"

Possibility Reported of Youth Work Camp in Rock Creek Area

Officials of the Sawtooth national forest will meet tonight with Twin Falls county commissioners to discuss the possibility of installing a youth job corps work camp several miles south of Twin Falls in the Rock creek area. R. C. Christensen, official in the forest service Twin Falls office, said Thursday morning the forest service has been looking at several locations on forest service land to install one of the camps, in case the south Idaho area is chosen. The camp would be established under the anti-poverty law passed under the current administration.

Provided in the new act is a provision for the youth work camps. The forest service has been investigating, for several weeks, the possibilities of installing a camp, to be under the supervision of the forest service, with assistance in supervision from the office of equal opportunities.

The camp would provide living quarters, food, clothing, and other necessities for the youths, aged 16-20 years. The youths would be required to do work for the forest service and would be provided educational and recreational facilities.

Christensen explained that the youths would have approximately a third or fourth grade education and would come from low-income families. They would work on forest service projects part of the time and would be given educational opportunities (under forest service direction, not in public schools) during their off hours.

They also will be provided with recreational facilities, to be directed by forest service officials and peace corps-type councellors.

Christensen stressed that the camp still is only in the "consideration" stage and that forest service officials are attempting to learn the reaction of the local civil officials and determine the cooperation they might expect if such a plan can be adopted within the next year or two.

Under the provisions of the act, the camps must be within 30 miles of a doctor.

"Craters" Similarity To Moon Explained

HAILEY, Aug. 27 — Amazing similarities between Idaho's Craters of the Moon national monument and the moon itself were highlighted during a trip this week by Idaho officials to the national aeronautics and space administration in Houston, Tex., Rep. Pete Cenarrusa, Blaine county representative and speaker of the house, reported to the Times-News upon his return Thursday. He said he and Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, senate president pro-tem, felt, along with the other Idaho officials, that NASA officials were impressed with the possibilities and the trip was "fruitful." The trip was made in an effort to sell the agency on using the Craters of the Moon as a test site in the man-to-the-moon program.

Lloyd Howe, Idaho department of commerce and development, Boise, showed a 16mm film on the Craters area which, Cenarrusa said, "amazed the officials." They were impressed with the formations in the area.

The Idaho delegation invited NASA officials to come and investigate the site and offered the

Testimony in Murder Case Continues

BURLEY, Aug. 27 — Witnesses continued testifying for the state Thursday morning at the fourth day of the first degree murder trial of Elmer Reeder, 50, Raft River, before Eleventh District Judge Lloyd Webb.

Three persons had taken the stand when court recessed this noon. Verel Larson, passenger in the pickup truck driven by Walter Toeves, area rancher who was fatally shot last April 21 near the Raft River store, was the first on the stand.

Paul Johnson, another passenger in the truck, told how he helped put Mr. Toeves in the truck and bring him to the Burley hospital.

Dr. Dale Cornell, Boise psychiatrist, gave observations on his examinations of Reeder and was testifying when court recessed at noon.

Appearing Wednesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reed, owners and operators of the Raft River store; Mrs. Adelle Toeves, Toeves' widow; Theodore Marez, employee at the Toeves' ranch; Larson, one of the passengers in the pickup driven by Toeves when he was shot, and Theral Woodall, who was deputy sheriff at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Toeves testified of the hiring of Reeder and his employment at the ranch. Marez testified he was riding in the pickup with Reeder when they stopped as a pickup driven by Toeves approached. He told of helping put Toeves' body into the Toeves' pickup. He said he returned with Reeder to the Raft River store.

3 to Head Vietnamese Government

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Rioting broke out in Saigon today as three generals were named to run the South Vietnamese government.

Law and order appeared to have collapsed in the capital.

Howling mobs of Buddhists and Roman Catholics beheaded and beat each other to death with machetes, clubs and hatchets in the streets of Saigon.

The rioting overshadowed the attempt of the ruling military revolutionary council to choose a new "national leader" to replace President Nguyen Khanh.

The council named a junta consisting of Khanh, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, a favorite of the Buddhists, and Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, a Catholic.

In addition, Khanh, who is a Buddhist, was named to continue as head of the caretaker government, which will continue in office until national legislative elections are held. But he was not given the title of "national leader," which would have given him greater power than the other two junta members.

The three-man "national steering committee" faced a grim job of halting the wild street warfare.

Today's violence started when a jittery soldier fired a warning shot over the heads of a mob of 3,000 Catholics massed in front of the gateway leading to the Saigon headquarters of the Vietnamese joint general staff. The crowd promptly charged.

Khrushchev Raps Red China, U.S.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today unleashed a blistering attack on communist China and accused Peking of aiding the forces of imperialism.

At the same time, the 70-year-old Soviet leader again lashed out at the United States, charging that "the aggressive actions of American imperialists are fraught with the gravest consequences for the cause of peace and security of nations."

Khrushchev addressed a giant Soviet-Czech friendship rally.

Final Plans Are Rounding Into Shape For Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo

FILER, Aug. 27 — With the final plans from the board of directors, the superintendents of the 11 exhibit divisions, the county agent's office and all the other administrators being placed together in the last few days before the opening, the Twin Falls county fair and rodeo is beginning to fit into the perfect shape that has been the standard for more than 40 years.

Members of the fair board are urging all Twin Falls county residents, as well as those from surrounding areas who plan to attend the fair to "dress western."

Harold Hove, fair board member, said Thursday, that the board and all others concerned, feel that this aspect of the fair has been sorely neglected in the past and, as much state and local history is connected with the fair, people should get into the swing of things and participate wholeheartedly.

The fair board has contacted the merchants from all the surrounding towns and they have all all been willing to cooperate in the move. The Twin Falls and Kimberly area merchants will "dress western" in their places of business on the opening day, Wednesday and East End day, Thursday.

The merchants from Filer, Buhl, Castleford and other West end areas are going to follow suit on West End day. All merchants have said they will attend the fair in their western garb.

Hove urged everyone to get tickets for the rodeo early at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce office or at the fair office in Filer. He said that the tickets for the nightly performances are "going real fast," but there still are many choice spots available for the reserved seat section of the large grandstand.

Featured at the fair will be the Joe Zoppe family, trick riders, who will perform each night during the rodeo, and the Tuckers, a trampoline group which has appeared on the Ed Sullivan show and in various New York night spot engagements. The featured rodeo clown will be Wiley McCray, Briscoe, Tex., who has appeared in the largest rodeos in the nation, including the Houston Fat Stock show and rodeo, the Chicago International rodeo, the Calgary Stampede, the Idaho state fair and the Snake River stampede.

Cleo Hits Miami Area For 7 Hours

MIAMI, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Hurricane Cleo battered the metropolitan Miami area with 100-mile winds for seven hours today, then struck a deadly course up Florida's east coast toward the nation's missile center at Cape Kennedy. The storm, its intensity and forward speed picking up as it roared northward, heavily damaged the tourist resort of Miami Beach, Fort Lauderdale and other coastal cities. Looting was reported in smashed stores near the heart of Miami and at a shopping center near Fort Lauderdale. One looter was shot by Miami police.

At 11 a.m. EST Cleo was located near Stuart, Fla., 100 miles north of Miami, and churning a coastline course. Its center was expected to pass near Cape Kennedy early tonight, forecasters said.

At noon EST, the storm was located just southwest of Stuart and forecasters said it may have taken a slight turn toward the northwest. Cleo's center was estimated to be 20 miles in diameter.

Hurricane warnings south of Boca Raton were lowered at noon EST.

Hurricane-wise Floridians battened down in advance of the storm—worst to hit Miami in 14 years—and by mid-day there were no reports of deaths in south Florida. This contrasted to the 122 known dead Cleo left in her wake in an assault on the Caribbean islands from Guadeloupe to Cuba.

Goldwater to Visit Idaho On Sept. 10

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater will make an Idaho appearance Sept. 10.

He will speak in Boise.

Executive secretary of the Republican party, Dick Hughes, said Goldwater would be in Boise for perhaps two hours and speak somewhere in downtown Boise.

Hughes said it hasn't been set yet whether the candidate will speak indoors or outdoors. It will be in the morning.

Goldwater will be en route from Oregon and Washington to campaign appearances in Montana and Minnesota.

Hughes said there are no plans, but because of the early appearance in Idaho a second stop in the state might be possible before the November elections.

He said the vice presidential nominee, William Miller, will visit the state at another time.

Highway Rerouting Problems Are Heard

BUHL, Aug. 27—Both objections and approval were expressed on the proposed location of highway 30 between Buhl and Filer at a public hearing held Wednesday afternoon at the Buhl city hall by state highway officials. A resolution opposing the proposal was presented by Robert Moldenhauer, representing the Filer Kiwanis club. It pointed out businesses north of Jordan's corner on the present highway 30 would experience economic losses and farmers and cattlemen will be faced with loss of land—in some instances, homes and buildings.

Proponents of the new route stress the project, estimated to cost $2,700,000, is needed for growth and development and will serve the needs of the area best.

Wayne Summers, secretary of the state highway board, conducted the session, which was attended by some 70 persons. Other highway department personnel attending included Howard Pilkington, planning division assistant; Norman Crossley, urban engineer, Boise; Blaine Sessions, district highway engineer, and Max Jensen, assistant district highway engineer, both Shoshone, and Claude Manaton, area engineer for the federal bureau of public roads.

Summers, in opening remarks,

Johnson to Have Large Party Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 (UPI) —President Johnson has his 56th birthday party here tonight. Delegates to the Democratic national convention, groggy from three days of oratory, committed a social faux pas last night by unwrapping a day early his big present — the presidential nomination.

Nobody has it so good as the President of the United States when it comes to birthday parties. Who else can get happy birthday greetings in 12 languages including Russian and Greek? We ordinary mortals have to blow out the candles on our birthday cakes. But there will be no huffing and puffing for Johnson, because his candles are rigged to blow themselves out anytime he says the word.

The architect of this scientific marvel is St. John Terrell, proprietor of the Lambertville, N. J. Musicircus and co-chairman of the Johnson birthday celebration.

His first inspiration was to construct a giant birthday cake out of pyrotechnical material and mount it on a 50-foot tower. When you press a button, the candles explode into fireworks followed shortly by the cake. People who want a piece of birthday cake to eat are to be directed to the nearest salt water taffy stand.

Stop Signs to Be Installed On 2 Streets

Drivers of motor vehicles in Twin Falls will have to adjust to new stop signs next week, Paul Newton, city engineer, announced Thursday.

Newton said the new stop sign arrangement in the heart of the city will go into effect Tuesday in accordance with a ruling voted by the city commission this summer.

After placing of the signs next week, "no parking" signs will be installed along narrow areas of Third street north and Third street east.

"Allowing parking on those streets, as we do now, makes the streets one-way in some places," Newton noted.

New signs will stop all traffic crossing the two Third streets and four-way stops will be created at the Sixth avenue intersections.

"After a while," Newton said, "signal lights may replace the stop signs at the intersections."

These changes will take place gradually because the city will not be able to put up all of the signs in one or two days, according to Newton. He pointed to reduction of accidents as one of the major reasons for the changes.

In 1962 the city recorded 137 right angle accidents in the section bordered by Washington street on the west Addison avenue on the north, Blue Lakes boulevard on the east and Minidoka avenue on the south.

Other foreseen advantages are better access to the city center from the north, northeast and east and a substantial relief in the traffic load of Shoshone street, Newton said.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET LEADERS are Sen. Hubert Humphrey and President Lyndon B. Johnson. The pair received an ear-splitting ovation in Atlantic City's Convention hall Wednesday night after Johnson told the Democratic convention he wanted Humphrey as his vice presidential running mate in the coming presidential campaign. SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY

Another cold front is approaching the valleys of southern Idaho from the northwest and will be bringing cloudiness with shower activity tonight and Friday. A few minimum temperatures this morning were in the upper 30s in local areas of these agricultural valleys, but a 26 degree reading at Fairfield and a 33 degree reading at Rexburg were the coldest recorded at regular reporting stations in southern Idaho.

Higher pressure at the surface today will be giving way to lowering pressures as the frontal system now approaching the Washington coast moves inland during the day. Along with increasing cloudiness tonight and early morning will be rising nighttime temperatures over those of last night in southcentral valleys. Colder air aloft again will be moving into the Intermountain region Friday. Winds will be gusty at times today, with strong and gusty winds continuing behind the front on Friday. The outlook for Saturday is for partly cloudy skies and continued cold.

Maximum temperatures today will range from the upper 60s to low 80s and on Friday in the upper 60s into the 70s. Minimum temperatures will be in the 40s to low 50s except in Camas prairie, where low to mid 30s are possible. Lowering nighttime temperatures are in prospect for southern Idaho valleys Friday night and early Saturday morning with areas of frost becoming more widespread. This development should be watched for the possibility of taking protective measures to avoid frost damage to late season crops.

Harvesting operations during the next two or three days will receive some delays due to shower activity tonight and Friday, but mostly light rainfall amounts are expected. Field plowing, seedbed preparation and fall wheat planting can be accomplished during most of this time. Wind conditions will continue to be unfavorable for spraying operations. Maturity of sweet corn and bean growth will slow down due to this cold spell.

Pioneer Gooding Resident Dies

GOODING, Aug. 27 — Mrs. Irene A. Goode Furcht, pioneer resident of Gooding, died Thursday in Minidoka Memorial hospital of a long illness.

She was born in Jasper county, Ia., and attended school in Des Moines. In 1902 she was married to Julius Furcht in Adele, Ia. The couple came to Idaho in 1907 and she worked with her husband to develop the Gooding Land company.

At various times they operated a real estate business, an automobile business and dog kennels. Mr. Furcht died Dec. 16, 1963.

Graveside services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday at Elmwood cemetery by the Rev. Jim Davis, Gooding Assembly of God church. Friends may call at the Thompson chapel.

Snow

HAILEY, Aug. 27 — Heavy snow was reported on Iron mountain, Baldy mountain and a skiff of snow on Galena summit Wednesday. There was also snow reported on mountains at the head of the north fork of the Big Wood river.

John Combs, forest ranger at Hailey; Harry Ames, forest service engineer at Twin Falls; James Cook and Fred Baugh, both Hailey, crossed the Johnson pass on horseback from the headwaters of the Little Wood river to the headwaters of the north fork of the Big Wood river and reported it was snowing heavily the entire trip.

Newsmen Are Barred From GOP Meet

BOISE, Aug. 27 (UPI)— Goldwater Republicans barred newsmen from a one-day regional campaign workshop Thursday attended by some 40 party leaders from Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Nevada.

Dick Hughes, executive secretary of the Idaho Republican Central committee, said he had been told by the leaders of the workshop — John Grenier, the party's new national executive secretary, and Ray Humphreys, national GOP political organizer — that "they didn't want the press attending."

Humphreys, when asked to step outside to explain the essentials of the meeting, answered with a flat "No."

Hughes said Humphreys and Grenier agreed, however, to a 4 p.m. press conference. Hughes had announced the purpose of the meeting Wednesday as one to rally out the votes for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the party's presidential nominee, and to explain a precinct vote quota plan.

pointed out the purpose of the hearing was to inform local residents of the technical aspects of the proposal, conduct a question forum, and to record views of citizens affected by the proposed project.

He pointed out an analysis of the hearing will be compiled and submitted for study to the state highway board of directors, U.S. bureau of public roads, and state highway engineer. These views will be considered to enable completion of design to conform to the views and purchasing right-of-ways. Project construction is slated to begin in two or three years, he stated.

The proposed route would overlay the present highway 30 route east of Buhl for about two and one-quarter miles, then follow the Union Pacific railroad on the south side approximately three miles where it would veer to the south following Cedar Draw to a point about one-half mile west of Filer where it would then overlay the Clover road east to its junction with the present highway 30 at the southwest corner of Filer.

The proposed route would eliminate railroad crossing at Cedar crossing and the west edge of Filer. He noted this route is superior in many aspects. It is a more direct route, and distance savings are dollar savings, he stated. It will provide a modern, safe, efficient highway and offers the best possible service to individuals, communities and businesses, he stated.

Pilkington stated the proposed relocation is an eight mile section for a two lane highway, but sufficient right-of-way would have to be acquired for an ultimate four lane facility. It will be designed for rural speeds of 70 miles per hour and urban speeds at 40 miles per hour.

Moldenhauer, representing the Filer Kiwanis club, said the club and citizens at large appreciate the need for improved roads and safety conditions, however, the proposed relocation of the highway does not provide safety features at the Filer high school pedestrian crossing.

The resolution also stated it is understood U.S. highway 93 is to be rerouted more directly south of Twin Falls, thus reducing more traffic through Filer.

Upon the completion of interstate highway 80 it is logical traffic will greatly be reduced in the area and thereby there is less need for this project, the resolution said.

The resolution recommended the present route be improved to provide an underpass at Cedar Draw crossing, make cuts and fills in the existing road to facilitate passing.

Mrs. Lavern Strong, representing the Federal Women's club, requested an underpass for students walking as a traffic safety measure at the Filer high school point.

of 20, he would no longer be entitled to live in the camp, but would receive the opportunity to further his education if he had shown improvement in his education at the camp.

Forest service officials cited many services the youth can provide while they are attempting to improve themselves at the camp, such as fire fighting during the summer months and joining searches for lost hunters and missing aircraft.

Christiensen stressed that although plans for camps in this area still are only in the preliminary stages, they are urging support of all local officials and residents in an attempt to make this facility available for the underprivileged youths to improve themselves, take themselves off the pension lists and become citizens of value and taxpayers.

Damage Listed In Buhl Mishap

BUHL, Aug. 27—A total of $300 in damages was estimated in a two-car accident which occured at noon Tuesday, reports Buhl Police Chief Charles Burbank.

Martin Dalos, 70, Buhl, driving a 1950 Ford, stopped at a stop sign on Thirteenth avenue and pulled onto Main street.

His car collided with a westbound 1958 Ford driven by Frank Holesinsky, 24, Castleford. No injuries were reported.

Twin Falls News in Brief

Magic Valley Duplicate Bridge club met Wednesday at Birch's hall. Winners were Mrs. Harvy Wright and Mrs. J. O. Pumphrey, first; Mrs. C. H. Welteroth and Mrs. A. D. McMahon, second; Mrs. Paul Tabor, jr., and Mrs. M. G. Bleem, third, and Mrs. C. J. Straughn and Mrs. J. P. Thoman and Mrs. F. F. Jensen and Mrs. A. P. Russell, tied for fourth.

Raymond E. Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lindsey, 443 Third avenue east, has enlisted in the army for three years. He is undergoing eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Ord, Calif., after which he will be trained in supply.

Mrs. R. C. Wark has received word of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Northrup, Wednesday night in Long Beach, Calif., of a heart attack. She was secretary of the Amalagamated Sugar company here for 25 years and left Twin Falls about four years ago.

assistance of the governor's office. However, Cenarrusa said he believes it will be next summer before any investigation can be made.

Asked if the proposed site would include Laidlaw park, the solon said he did not think it would take in either Laidlaw park or the Wildhorse area.

"It would not take grazing land, as only lava formation is needed," he added.

Dr. Polland of the school of mining at the University of Idaho, Moscow, who accompanied the group, gave a presentation of the geology of the moon.

The group viewed a chamber in one of the space agency buildings in Houston which demonstrated the surface of the moon and the similarity to the crater area was impressive, Cenarrusa said.

Light from the Earth is believed to shine on the moon and shadows there are thought to be similar to the lighting on the craters, he noted.

The NASA showed films which spotted objects on the moon to an accuracy of 10 feet. Smooth spots were shown, but the Idaho group learned much of the surface of the moon has the appearance of being of volcanic origin.

It is believed some of the moon's surface is not too hard and gravity on the moon is only one-sixth of that on Earth. The NASA has a chamber simulating the gravity on the moon and Cenarrusa noted it was difficult for a man to walk, but after he had received considerable training in the partial vacuum he could walk quite well.

When he fell he bounced like a ball. The man gave a little jump like on a diving board and his body arched in the air and he fell on his head, Cenarrusa recounted. He added the fall was like that of a feather.

Maj. Gen. James H. Trail, assistant adjutant general for air, presented logistics on airfields in Idaho, with possibilities of use for jet planes.

Gov. Robert Smylie has reported the state has been trying to interest NASA in the craters for about eight months.

Edgar White Dies in Reno

Edgar L. White, 50, 1339 Alder drive, was found dead in his motel room in Reno, Nev., Wednesday.

Reno police said they found an empty prescription bottle next to the bed where the body was found. An autopsy was scheduled for Thursday.

Mr. White was born in Helena, Mont., and came to this area in early boyhood with his parents. His father, the late Dr. Edgar L. White, was a long-time minister of the First Methodist church in Twin Falls and in Filer.

Mr. White married Virginia Graves in 1941 in Galveston, Tex. He is a former sales manager of the Wasatch Plumbing Supply company of Idaho and the former owner of a service station at Five points west.

He was a member of the Episcopal church, a duplicate bridge club and the Blue Lakes Country club.

Surviving, besides his widow, is a son, Stephen, Twin Falls.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Berg's Twin Falls mortuary.

Republican Club Hears 4 Speakers

Four local Republican candidates appeared as guest speakers before the Republican Women's club Monday in the Rogerson hotel.

Candidates appearing were Mrs. Gertrude Boss, candidate for Twin Falls county treasurer; Ray Lincoln, candidate for representative in the Idaho state legislature; William Roberts, candidate for representative in the Idaho legislature, and R. J. Schwendiman, candidate for clerk of the district court and ex-officio auditor and recorder.

Mrs. Ted Scott, state president of the Idaho Republican clubs and the Idaho Republican delegate and member of the platform committee at the national convention, closed the program with a resume of "behind the scenes" activities at the convention. She also described the hours of detailed work by the platform committee, along with other facts of interest.

Death Takes E. Bartlett, 70, Wendell

WENDELL, Aug 27—Emmett Bartlett, 70, longtime Wendell resident, died Wednesday night in St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome. He had been in poor health for several years.

Born Feb. 9, 1894, at Knoble, Mo., he came to Idaho in 1918 and homesteaded northwest of Wendell in 1921. On Sept. 21, 1919, he married Olive Florence Engelhaupt at Lincoln, Nebr.

Mr. Bartlett farmed most of his life, retiring in 1949 and moving to Hagerman. In 1956 he returned to Wendell. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Survivors include his widow, five sons, Edwin Bartlett, Buhl; Steve Bartlett, Grants Pass, Ore.; Stan Bartlett, Boise; Emmett Bartlett, jr., Wendell, and John Bartlett, Puerto Rico; four daughters, Mrs. Effie Engels, Verdi, Nev.; Mrs. Ann Jamison and Mrs. Alice Talbert, both San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. Alma Strong, Wendell; six brothers, Paul Bartlett, Santa Clara, Calif.; John Bartlett, White Fish, Mont.; C. L. Bartlett, Wendell; Oscar Bartlett, Buhl; Villis Bartlett, address unknown, and Earl Bartlett, Ohio; one sister, Mrs. Florence Turner, Missouri, and 22 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Wendell Methodist church by the Rev. Edward V. Hargreaves, pastor. Final rites will be held at the Wendell cemetery. Friends may call at the Weaver mortuary from 1 p.m. Friday until time of services.

tended at 11 a.m. EST all the way north of Charleston, S. C.

Miami forecasters called Cleo a "rather small but dangerous hurricane."

Hospital waiting rooms were jammed and the plush resort of Miami Beach was left knee deep in debris. Trees and power lines toppled like tenpins plunging the city into darkness and starting numerous fires. Objects as large as garbage cans and bicycles were hurled through the city like cannonballs.

The deluge flooded streets and made it hard to tell roadways from canals.

Russia Records Big Earthquake

MOSCOW, Aug. 27 (UPI) — An earthquake possibly stronger than the Alaska shock of last March has struck in the Laptev sea north of the central Soviet Union, radio Moscow said today.

It said the Moscow central seismic station recorded an earthquake of force 8 to 10 on the Richter scale at 78 degrees north and 127 degrees east. This would put its epicenter well north of the nearest town of Tiksi.

The Alaska quake had a Richter rating of 8.9.

Critical Area For Election Race Selected

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 (NEA)— A high-ranking Democrat who puzzled over the matter for weeks finally has decided that the eight-state Middle West is the critical combat area in the 1964 presidential race.

Goldwater forces agree with this judgment in part, since they have said the Republican nominee needs Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin as prime building stones toward a Nov. 3 victory.

The top Democrat, one of President Johnson's good friends, puts the other four midwestern states — Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri—in the same crucial category.

Together, the eight comprise 129 of the 270 electoral votes required for election.

Writer Tells How Stage Was Set for Viet Nam's Upheaval

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (NEA) —Third convulsion in South Viet Nam's government since last October took place largely because of antagonism among professional men and intellectuals in the nation's large cities. This opposition to government policies translated into the student riots, which, in turn, brought about the upheaval within the regime of Nguyen Khanh.

A strong anti-Khanh and anti-American attitude was in evidence during my tour through Viet Nam recently.

I was having a late dinner in the back room of a Saigon restaurant with a group of students, professors and professional men — mainly architects, engineers and lawyers. They were open and friendly.

I asked them what they thought of the U.S. bombings in the Tonkin gulf. It was a pleasant question. I expected a polite "it was good" answer. But instead there was dead silence. I fidgeted and so did they.

Finally, after prodding, I got one student to answer.

"It depends on why you did it," he said. "Did you bomb North Viet Nam to help us or because of your domestic policies? Are you here to help us or to carry out your own aims?"

This led to more questions by the others. They asked: "We don't mind your insisting on a Viet Nam government friendly to you. But why don't you give us some say in choosing that government? Why must it be headed by a man you choose? Why did Mr. Lodge pick the government after he ousted Diem? And why did you then oust that government and choose Khanh?"

A few days later I talked to a range of other professional men. To a man, they had nothing against Khanh personally. They approved of a stronger, firm, war government. But they didn't like his suspicion of civilians.

They didn't like his military government. They didn't like open U.S. steps to prevent anyone from ousting Khanh.

As one former high Vietnamese government official put it in a private conversation we had at his home: "We don't mind military men having the final say. After all, this is war. But why can't there be a civilian prime minister under a military chief of state? Let the military men run the military council. Give them, if you wish, a veto power on anything concerning the war. But in Khanh's government there's little place for civilians."

Another professional man talked to me at length a few days later while we were waiting out a rainstorm in a Saigon sidewalk cafe.

"You Americans talk democracy," he said. "But you back a dictatorship. You've got to show some leadership. Give us some demonstration of democracy so we'll have something to fight for.

"What have we got to fight for now? Some of us know and hate communism. But most of our people don't know what communism is. Do you expect them to fight for a military dictatorship?

"You interfere so much in some ways. Yet you are afraid to interfere in important ways you could help. Take up your courage and do something to create democracy in South Viet Nam, instead of wringing your hands and saying 'we can't interfere in your internal affairs.' Because you are already interfering."

I talked to the managing editor of a prominent Saigon newspaper. "Khanh and his people don't trust me," he said, "because I once fought in Ho Chi Minh's army.

"But I fought as a nationalist against the French colonialists. I quit when we won our independence and found that Ho was a communist. There are a lot of people like me. But this government doesn't want us."

I interviewed a veteran politician who is trusted and respected by a wide variety of Americans and Vietnamese. Some think he some day will be head of the government when civilians again run the country.

"There is no place for a man like me now," he said. "I am waiting. I want to do something for my country in the government. But I am not asked. I am not used."

I checked these thoughts with a high American official in Saigon. "Khanh's keeping too many good civilians out of the government," he said. "We know that. For one, he's barred many able men, just because they had prominent places in the Diem government.

"We know too that Khanh and the men around him are overly suspicious of civilians in general. They don't trust them.

"They can't afford this luxury. The layer of able leadership is too thin. We're trying to change this attitude. But we haven't made much headway so far."

This isn't the whole story. Some Vietnamese don't trust today's military leaders—not because they are military men—but because of their personal backgrounds.

I was drinking tea on his porch with a Vietnamese intellectual who had spent much of his life in the government, rising to a rather high position. He was once an officer in Ho Chi Minh's army in the war against the French, but that had been no handicap because he was a personal friend of Khanh. But he doesn't trust the men around Khanh.

"I know many of these military men now in high posts," he said. "They were loyal to the French in the war for independence. Some of us think of them as you thought of those American colonialists who fought for the British in the American revolution. How can we trust them?"

Togetherness

CENTRALIA, Wash., Aug. 27 (AP)—Being a two-car family has its disadvantages.

Robert Smith, Kent, Wash., stopped on the freeway north of here yesterday after his automobile struck and killed a cow.

Another car slammed into the rear of his, wrecking it. The second car was driven by his wife, Ute.

No Panacea

The National Farmers Organization (NFO) is involved in another campaign to withhold livestock from market to force an increase in prices. In previous similar action, the NFO has claimed success of sorts although other sources concerned with the livestock industry had different interpretations. Although it's obvious livestock-withholding can force temporary increases in prices, it's difficult to understand how anything of lasting value can be achieved.

Livestock can't be withheld from the market like grain without loss. Even when livestock is retained on the farm until prices show a temporary increase, that sort of approach doesn't solve the meat industry's basic problem. Cattle prices have been depressed for some months, not because of anything wrong in the marketing procedure, but simply because there are too many cattle. Withholding won't cure that basic problem.

In its current campaign, the NFO claims members in 23 states are participating in the livestock withholding program. One of the states is supposed to be Idaho, but until Idaho was listed, there was nothing that would have led Idahoans to know they were the target of a livestock-withholding plan. As reported from Boise by the Associated Press, the NFO ". . . has only a few members in the state." Any program to control marketing of any farm product must be based on near total participation of producers. The NFO can be expected to protest the Associated Press report, but significantly, the NFO doesn't report membership numbers so the protest will be rather hollow.

NFO leadership would do well to work for correction of basic problems rather than to devise startling programs that will attract much attention without possibility of lasting results. A few farmers who market their stock quietly after a temporary increase in prices will benefit. Others will lose, particularly if animals were ready for market and then were held back—and fed more.

So long as total supply of livestock exceeds total demand, prices are likely to remain generally low. Prices will rise as the supply comes somewhere near the level of demand and will increase substantially if the supply falls below demand. These are basic facts of economics that won't be changed by any short-range, attention-gaining plan to withhold livestock from market.

These facts also are reflected in the claim of the American Meat Institute that the temporary and artificial curtailment of supply will work to the disadvantage of farmers. It merely delays the day of reckoning while creating an artificial increase in supply when livestock are finally marketed — with a corresponding drop in prices.

Perhaps NFO leaders believe any ac*tion is better than no action at all.*

RIGHT APPROACH

Members of the Committee of 25 have been appearing at various meetings around Twin Falls county to explain details of a proposal to create a junior college district. In some cases, copies of a mimeographed brochure, "Twin Falls County Community College Statistical Information," have been distributed. In addition, members of the Committee of 25 have tried to answer all questions concerning the proposal.

Here's the right approach to answering whatever questions there may be about the junior college plan. In addition to being forthright and honest about the endeavor, the Committee of 25 must try to answer any question that is raised by anyone. It just doesn't make any sense to hedge and beat around the bush. The best possible development at this stage of the proposal is to arouse enough interest that citizens ask questions.

It's quite possible that some voters won't approve after learning everything about the junior college plan and the county's pressing need for a junior college. But far greater numbers of voters wouldn't approve if they aren't informed or if they get the idea they're being told only what someone wants them to know.

For instance, there have been some objections here and there "because a junior college means more taxes." Certainly a junior college means more taxes. Anyone who says anything different just isn't being realistic. But the benefits accruing to students and the county as a whole will far exceed the additional tax cost.

As the Committee of 25 continues to explain the junior college district plan, members of the committee will encounter many questions and some objections. If they answer the questions completely and honestly, some of the objections will be softened or perhaps even changed to approval. But it's obvious this is the only approach to informing and educating county residents.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—Quite aside from the tragedy of a tiny country torn by bloody strife, the free world's concern with Cyprus has important political considerations. Unless a durable peace can be achieved, the result could be the destruction of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

As one foreign diplomat here put it, "We're all in this together. Cyprus has got to be saved if we're going to save our own skins."

The reason for this concern is simple. Three nations—Britain, Turkey and Greece—are guarantors of Cyprus' independence, and all are members of NATO. Each reserved the right, under the Treaty of Guarantee, to intervene militarily to preserve the island's independence.

NATO ENDANGERED — Thus the world has seen Greece and Turkey, apparently unyielding on opposite sides of the issue, all but going to war over the island. Any permanent falling out between these two countries would wreck NATO's southeastern pivot in the Mediterranean. And history has taught that when members of an alliance start fighting the alliance is not long for this world.

Cyprus' problem probably would not be a prob*lem anywhere else in the world,* where the majority usually is in full control of any government. Eighty per cent of the Cypriots are Greeks or of Greek descent, and a little less than 20 per cent are Turks. Both the Greeks and the Turks regard the countries of their origin as the motherland, just as if the Italians in the United States gave their allegiance to Rome.

INDEPENDENCE— AND TROUBLE—Possibly the only solution to the problem was tossed into imperialism's ashcan four years ago when Cyprus won its independence from Great Britain. The British had controlled the island since 1878 when they took it away from Turkey, and in 1925 Cy*prus became a British crown colony.*

But as in so many other areas of the world, World war II brought a surge of nationalist sentiment to Cyprus. The Cypriots unleashed a war of terrorism against the British; Greek Cypriots wanted "enosis" or union with Greece, the Turks wanted union with Turkey. Both wanted the British to go away.

Eventually, the British did go away. Along with Turkey and Greece, Britain imposed a compromise giving Cyprus independence, and each of the three nations established military forces on the island to keep the peace. A constitution provided for a Greek president and a Turkish vice president, with each given the power of veto over defense, finance and foreign policy matters.

SHOOTING STARTED TROUBLE — As might have been expected, this setup did little to erase the age-old animosities between Greeks and Turks. The Greek Cypriots kept all the best government jobs; the Turks responded by using their veto powers in any matter more important than the purchase of a couple of pencils. There were sporadic outbursts of internecine fighting, climaxed by the outbreak of all-but-total warfare last Dec. 21 when a Greek Cypriot policeman shot and killed two Turkish Cypriots during a demonstration.

Since then, the island has lived in a state of violent chaos, with both sides rejecting peace-making moves from individual Western nations and the United Nations. Naturally, the Soviet Union stands gloating on the sidelines because its dearest wish is the destruction of NATO, and Cyprus is having a good go at it.

Views of Others

BY ANYBODY'S DEFINITION

No field on constitutional law seems to give courts more trouble than that involving obscene literature. The supreme court again reflects the opinions on cases arising from Kansas and Ohio.

The Kansas book-burning case was decided by 7-2 with four sets of opinions. The decisive one, by Justice Brennan, held that a Kansas sheriff ignored constitutional protections for non-obscene books by seizing 31 titles when only seven were named in the warrant, and none of the books had been judged obscene in any hearing before they were seized. In another opinion, Justice Stewart said the books were not hard-core pornography and therefore could not be suppressed. In still another, Justices Black and Douglas contended that the First Amendment unequivocally prohibited statutes abridging freedom of speech and press.

But the Ohio case, decided 6-3, went further into the problem of defining obscenity. There the court ruled that a French motion picture, "The Lovers," was not obscene Justice Brennan held that the court's 1957 requirement that "contemporary community standards" should guide in judging obscenity did not mean the limited and possibly parochial standards of a particular local community. The community standards, he said, should be national standards under terms of a national Constitution.

This redefinition is a hard blow to efforts by private groups in many areas to establish their own notions of obscenity as guiding community standards. However, Chief Justice Warren and Justice Clark did not agree; they thought standards of obscenity should be left to the local community. The other dissenter, Justice Harlan, observed that obscenity seemed to depend on how the material "happens to strike the minds of jurors and judges . . ."

Justice Harlan's words may reinforce scorn for the court's attitudes toward obscenity, but they go to the heart of the matter. Obscenity does indeed depend upon how jurors and judges, and on how legislators and police, and on how individuals generally view it. In fact, obscenity, like beauty, often seems to be in the eye of the beholder. Nudity or words that appear obscene to one person may not to another. And if the courts have not found a definition acceptable to all, neither has anyone else, including the lawmakers.

The supreme court's problem is more difficult than that of merely seeking definitions. Its problem involves constitutional protection of freedom of communication against censorship efforts that overreach themselves. But we think that where determinations of obscenity are so personal, the public can more safely trust them to experienced judges than to individual prosecutors and policemen or self-appointed private censors.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CHICKENS AND MONKEYS

After many weeks of thought, argumentation and even a congressional hearing, the agriculture department has reached its momentous decision: Chicken soup in ready-to-serve form must contain at least 2 per cent meat by weight.

Even with the issue so brilliantly resolved, however, a jurisdictional problem has arisen. Who gets the job of policeman for the chicken soup? The agriculture department doesn't want it and is trying to fob it off on the food and drug administration. That agency, in turn, insists that a 1950 poultry inspection law gave all such responsibility to the farm officials.

As an FDA man observes: "We don't care how little or how much poultry is in a food; that law put the monkey on agriculture's back and we're not going to take it back."

The stunned citizen, surveying the war of the bureaucrats, can only marvel how a few chicken-brains can sometimes use tax money to indulge in such monkey-business.—Wall Street Journal.

POT SHOTS

MOOOOOO!

Dear Pots:

I was pleased to read the T-N editorial on placing the civic auditorium in the city park, but why be an objectionist all the time? Nobody uses the park except the promoters of the auditorium and it only belongs to the citizens of Twin Falls so why object?

The plan is feasible:

The Christian church could donate space in the basement for the pari-mutuel stalls.

The band director could stand on the school building across Shoshone street.

The bass drummer could be in the Methodist church prayer room.

The banks could furnish park*ing space* (out of business hours, naturally).

All this accommodation is useless because the civic center is not a Magic Valley project—placed just across the iron curtain beyond the canyon.

*And the bureau of land man*agement could have supplied all requirements for free, plus the development and it would have added the interest of several thousand people.

Oh, well! The old saying goes, "If you can't be the bell-cow, just fall in behind."

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 27 (AP)—This is the dullest political convention since the one the Republicans held in 1956, and for the same reason. Yet, it has its own special fascination in the things unseen and unsaid.

In 1956 the Republicans met to go through the motions of approving the uncontested renomination of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Here the Democrats are doing the same for the uncontested nomination of President Johnson.

Then and now there was the usual routine of blasting the opposition.

But the Democratic speakers, reciting the wonders of the administrations of Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy, bracket both men in their eulogies without mentioning the differences between them.

Perhaps the greatest difference was this: Kennedy was an individual kind of president; Johnson is far more the organization man.

Kennedy at the time of his death was still young enough to give a sense of youth to the presidency. Johnson can't. He is deeper in middle age.

The words of Kennedy, a far better-read man than Johnson and therefore more literary in his thinking, had a sparkle which Johnson's more pedestrian speeches never achieve.

There was a sense of gaiety about Kennedy, a wit and detachment about himself and his job, which is lacking in Johnson who sounds more deadly serious and sometimes even doleful.

But Kennedy wasn't in the same league with Johnson in unrelenting presidential drive aimed at persuading people — particularly in congress—to melt their differences to do what he wanted or some of what he wanted.

He works at organizing his forces in a way Kennedy, just because of his detachment, might never have mastered. It seems a basic part of Johnson's make-up that he must succeed, if not entirely, at least a bit.

It's this part of Johnson which showed up at this convention while he remained in Washington. There can hardly be any doubt his guiding hand is running the show.

If the tone of this convention could be summed up in one word it would be "moderation." The moderation has a double purpose obvious before the convention ever opened.

The object is keeping the Democrats united while attracting as many independents and Republicans as possible. This is the usual political tactic, of course, but this year it has a special significance.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, by his positions on issues and the uncompromising tactics of his supporters at this year's Republican convention, has antagonized a number of Republicans.

The proof is in the fact that after the convention he found it necessary to have a unity meeting with some of the Republican leaders.

To preserve party unity Johnson from the beginning took the opposite course, although total unity seems impossible in those southern areas where whites have already expressed their antagonism on the racial issue.

But, as the platform shows, Johnson tried to straddle this ticklish situation by the language of compromise.

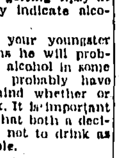
In a clear effort to keep southerners and Negroes under the Democratic tent the platform assured the latter the Johnson administration would enforce their rights while saying so in language so mild it is calculated not to inflame the South.

For those Republicans who may find Goldwater too forceful or too conservative for their taste, the Democratic platform's moderate liberalism is offered as an inducement to go along with Johnson.

All this is implicit, if unstated, in what has happened here. And all of it is implicit in Johnson's philosophy, illustrated many times in the past, of how to organize to get what he wants.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.



Dr. Brandstadt

Alcoholic beverages are a part of the life of about 67 per cent of all persons over 15 in this country. Because of this statistic, Frances Todd believes that teen-agers should be taught something about drinking. To this end she has written "Teaching About Alcohol" (McGraw-Hill paperback). Parents of teen-agers would do well to read this book. A careful distinction must be drawn among drinking, drunkenness and alcoholism. Just as a single drink does not make a person a little bit drunk, as some extremists have maintained, neither does getting tipsy at times necessarily indicate alcoholism.

By the time your youngster reaches his teens he will probably have tasted alcohol in some form and will probably have made up his mind whether or not he will drink. It is important that he realize that both a decision to drink or not to drink as socially acceptable.

Most important of all, he should understand the special risks of drinking before he reaches full maturity. The pressures to drink are probably a little greater for the teen-age boy than for the teen-age girl.

What, then, are the hazards associated with teen-age drinking? Since a person's tolerance for alcohol is in large part determined by his body weight, and since some teen-agers have not yet attained their full adult stature, it follows that smaller amounts of alcohol will be needed to depress their higher brain centers.

Furthermore, your adolescent child is more apt to experience physchological intoxication. All emotional experiences in teen-agers are magnified beyond the comprehension of their parents. Thus, it will take very little alcohol to plunge a teen-ager into an emotional crisis which may result in an unfortunate fight or an even more unfortunate love affair.

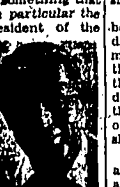
An adolescent—nor anybody else—does not need alcohol to help him meet his personal problems. He must learn to face them squarely without the crutch, and the poor crutch at best, of inebriation.

But there are physiological as well as psychological reasons why a little alcohol may affect a teen-ager adversely. Until a person's stomach has gotten used to alcohol, nausea and vomiting may occur. This is the opposite of the desired effect, and may ruin what started out to be a gay party.

The greatest risk is the effect of alcohol in the inexperienced drinker who is also an inexperienced driver. Alcohol has made too many teen-agers irresponsible behind the wheel.

It is best not to introduce your adolescent son or daughter to alcohol but, if you must do so, do it very gradually. Start with beer or wine and make it a truly educational experience, not a vicious habit.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON



Marquis Childs

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 27 — News is, almost by definition, bad news. This is something that politicians, and in particular the man who is President of the United States, find it difficult to understand.

A lot of grousing by the news media is over the bland and outwardly harmonious surface the Democrats are determined to present at their convention. This is the way President Johnson wants it, and if there is an eruption, it will be in spite of the hours and hours that he and his faithful slaves have spent in the effort to damp down controversy.

Take, as an example, the issue of reapportionment and the attempt by certain elements in congress to shackle the supreme court. The major strength of the Democratic party lies in the big cities that have been created by legislatures dominated by the rural counties. Logically, a strong plank in favor of reapportionment should be in the Democratic platform.

But the President is acutely sensitive to the problems of members of congress and especially the Democratic leadership. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, majority leader in the house, is also chairman of the platform committee. Not only does Albert have no cities in his district but hardly a small town.

To rural voters, reapportionment means domination by the wicked cities. Johnson listened sympathetically to Albert and other rural representatives who explained their dilemma. Word went from the White House that a quarrel over reapportionment would only help the enemy and, therefore, it was to be kept out of the platform if that could be managed.

The Mississippi and Alabama delegations presented a thornier problem. A compromise on the seating of the Mississippi Freedom Democrats and the regular Democrats that might have been acceptable two weeks ago would not go down as the race question warmed up. The compromiser must know when to offer the best bargain he can get, and LBJ's mastery in this department seems to have fallen short in the Mississippi quarrel.

The Johnson psychology has been called the "poor boy syndrome." He wants everything and more, and more and more than that. He wants the North and the South. But there are deep divisions of principle that, if they are compromised for reasons of expediency, may in the upshot defeat the compromisers.

For all his nearly 30 years in active political life and his astute knowledge of the political tides, Johnson has never understood the way the news media function. He is full of righteous indignation when the press fails to report the good, the true and the beautiful in his administration. "You all write about the white backlash," he tells his visitors. "Why don't you write about the Republican frontlash?"

He meets with a head of government and, say, reaches 75 per cent agreement, 25 per cent disagreement. The headlines are on the 25 per cent and the President is indignant. He explodes in earthy vernacular at the magnification of the few blemishes on the otherwise fair face of order and harmony.

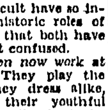
In short, he had little comprehension of the role of the press as independent judge and critic. This is one characteristic he shares with his opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater. Goldwater carries his resentment of the press so far as to be convinced that he is the victim of a conspiracy, with the so-called liberal press as part of the eastern establishment out to do him in.

The President's indignation is for private consumption. As a veteran of the political wars, he knows it is futile—and perhaps worse than futile—to belabor the news media with public scorn. But it is obvious that reporting the pros and cons of the coming campaign, trying to paint the picture, warts and all, will be more than hazardous this year.

Judging by all indicators, the President has almost everything going for him at this stage of the game. But in the nature of things the chorus cannot sing entirely in harmony. And to give too much time and attention to the sour notes is to miss the great themes that can unite a troubled people in a time of confusion and uncertainty.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE



Boyle

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—It is a truism of our times that the sexes are getting more alike in America. As a matter of fact, it is getting harder and harder to tell them apart. In the Middle Ages there was no such problem. If a creature had long hair and wore a long dress, it was a woman. If it had on a suit of metal and clanked when it walked, it was a man. Each could tell the sex of the other on sight.

But since knighthood no longer is in flower, the identity of the sexes has become more puzzling. The spread of the equal rights movement and the rise of the togetherness cult have so intermingled the historic roles of men and women that both have become somewhat confused.

Men and women now work at the same jobs. They play the same sports. They dress alike, particularly in their youthful years, and they talk about the same things.

As an inevitable result, they look more alike. As a matter of fact, teen-agers now look so much alike that only their own parents can tell which is son, which is daughter.

But it is almost as hard to tell pop from mom when both put on slacks to go golfing or grandpa from grandma when they dress up in old clothes to go fishing.

What we need is a kind of Baedecker of Sex to tell the genders apart. Here are a few ways it still can be done:

If it smiles when you address it as "ma'am," it is feminine. If it grunts and growls, it is masculine.

If it strikes a kitchen match on the seat of its trousers, it's a him. If it waits coyly for you to light its cigarette, it's a her.

If it takes off its shoes at the movies, it's a woman. If it gets down on its hands and knees and starts looking for the shoes, it's a man.

Does it do its fair share of pushing while going through a revolving door? It's a gentleman for sure. Does it leap in front of you and grab the taxi you just flagged down? It's a lady—every time.

If it brags about the steaks it cooked in the backyard, it's a man. If it dimples when you praise the roast it cooks indoors, it's a woman.

If it wears a red ribbon in its hair, it's a lass. If it combs its hair like the north end of a duck going south, it's a lad.

If two go to the supermarket, the one that pushes the loaded cart is the mister. The missus is the one that holds up the line at the checkout counter as she fumbles through the wilderness of her purse.

HOW TO BID JACOBY SLAMS

If you want to use the Jacoby slam method be sure to save this article and make sure that your partners will understand it also. Here is the method:

If a player jumps to four clubs from the one level he is asking for aces, provided clubs have not been bid as a suit. Any time he jumps to four no-trump when he could ask for aces by means of a four-club bid he is making a strong no-trump bid. Otherwise, his four no-trump calls are Blackwood.

There is one exception to this. If partner bids three no-trump in any normal bidding sequence neither four no-trump nor four clubs asks for aces. Both become natural bids and five clubs is used as the ace request.

The responses to a four or five-club request are:

Diamonds, none or four.
Hearts, one.
Spades, two.
No trump, three.

South has one of those hands that are almost strong enough for an opening two bid. After he opens one spade and his partner raises him to two he is interested in a slam if partner holds just one ace, but would like to be able to quit at four if his partner has no aces. The four-club bid makes this possible. North responds four hearts to show one ace and South bids the slam.

South ruffs the second heart; draws trumps with two leads; starts on the diamonds, and makes the rest of the tricks easily because he does not find five diamonds in one hand.

I. F. Officials Deny Charge Of Relocation

By Associated Press

The president of the Idaho Falls Chamber of Commerce has denied that the U. S. navy is favoring his city over Pocatello and Sen. Len B. Jordan, R., Ida., has asked for an explanation of the situation.

Their reactions were prompted by a letter from the Chamber of Commerce in Pocatello to Idaho's congressional delegation charging that navy personnel at the national reactor testing station were being encouraged to live and seek medical care in Idaho Falls.

In a letter also sent to the congressmen, Paul Ahlstrom, Idaho Falls chamber president, said the Pocatello statement "distorts existing circumstances to completely false conclusions."

NRTS has had its headquarters in Idaho Falls since its inception, he said, and the attractiveness of the city "has added over the years additional incentive to live in and around our community."

Jordan said he had asked the navy department yesterday to say whether enlisted men are being advised to move from Pocatello.

He also asked if reports were true that a medical dispensary in Pocatello would be closed.

Jordan noted that similar complaints were voiced in Blackfoot earlier this year.

He quoted a letter that had been sent to him from the general manager of the AEC at that time.

"As you probably know," it said, "neither the Idaho opera*tions office, AEC, nor the NRTS* contractors prevent employes from living wherever they may choose. This is evidenced by the fact that a recent survey revealed that site personnel live in some 33 different towns and villages in the surrounding area.

"We find that no advice, directives or instructions have been issued to either military or civilian personnel at the site to relocate from Blackfoot (or from any other community), nor are any contemplated."

California Driver Cited for Crash

William G. Burke, 43, Palo Verde, Calif., was cited by Idaho state police for failure to keep his vehicle under control after it slammed into the rear of another vehicle which had slowed down because of a school bus.

Burke was cited after his 1961 Buick slammed into the rear of a 1963 Chrysler driven by Daniel J. Eagon, 50, Great Falls, Mont., which had stopped at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday south of Berger on highway 93 for a child who was waiting for a school bus.

Damage was estimated at $600 to the Chrysler and $800 to the Buick.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Federal district Judge Fred M. Taylor yesterday ruled in favor of the government in a lawsuit filed by a Lewiston man who claimed he should receive social security bene*fits. He said the attorney for Leo R.* Baker had failed to file a reply brief to the government's motion for summary judgment on grounds the case had been reviewed in compliance with an earlier court order. The government maintained that no issues remained.

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The community facilities administration yesterday approved a $10,000 advance for preliminary planning for a new Idaho state fairgrounds in Boise. Estimated cost of the project is 1.4 million dollars with work to start in the fall of 1965. Word of the action came from the offices of Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Ralph Harding, Idaho Democrats.

SALMON, Aug. 27 (AP)—4-H youngsters in livestock judging competition at the eastern Idaho state fair next month in Blackfoot will have to look to their laurels when they come up against the team from Lemhi county. Kelly Anglin, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Anglin, Tendoy, took first place in the Lemhi county judging contest with what County Agent Russell Hillman described as an unbelievable score—394 out of a possible 400 points. Anglin will be a member of the Tendoy Braves judging team representing the county. His two companions will be Julanna Mulkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mulkey, Tendoy, and Leonore Reagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reagle, Tendoy.

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Idaho Public Utilities commission today authorized the Citizens Utilities company of Wallace to issue up to six million dollars in promissory notes for an improvement project. The water company, which serves the nearby communities of Burke and Mullan as well as Wallace, was granted authority to issue four million dollars in notes last December but asked an increase in the amount.

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Rain dampened the early hours of the Western Idaho state fair in its second day yesterday but failed to keep the crowd home. Ambrose Johnson, fair manager, said paid attendance to the event will average between 11,000 and 13,000 per day. A visitor said the fair was "one of the best" and magical moments, a family-oriented grandstand show, is being highly rec*ommended. Democrats were firmly entrenched in their booth inside* the commercial building yesterday, but Republicans valiantly fought high winds to keep their flags rooted atop their booth in the midway.

CALDWELL, Aug. 27 (AP)—Officials of southwest Idaho school districts are considering the possibility of joining forces to provide schooling for retarded children. Caldwell school board Chairman Anthony J. Messuri said he will call a meeting to consider feasibility of the idea. He said suggestions include a centralized school; having teachers, psychologists and nurses hired on a cooperative basis travel from one locality to another, and establishing more than one school for different levels of training. Messuri said districts have lagged in providing schools for the retarded, particularly those in the trainable classification. He said there is no inter-district program in the state. He said a public-supported school would replace schools like the Merri-Lynn school established by parents of retarded children in Caldwell.

Filer Couple's Relative Given Editor's Post

FILER, Aug. 26 — Robert W. Gibson, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hatch, Filer, has been appointed foreign editor for the Los Angeles Times. He is the husband of the former Carol Brazie. The family lives in Los Angeles.

Gibson was assistant foreign editor of Business Week before joining the Times staff 11 months ago. He was graduated from Stanford university in 1950 and After serving in the army he the Honolulu bureau of the United Press.

Afaer serving in the army he studied Far Eastern affairs at Stanford and joined the Associated Press. In 1957 he became news editor in McGraw-Hill's London bureau and established the Moscow bureau for the organization, serving as chief until 1960. He then returned to New York as assistant foreign editor of Business Week, a McGraw-Hill publication.

The Gibsons have traveled extensively in West Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

Hansen Visits Magic Valley On Campaign

George Hansen, Republican candidate for second district congressman, visited Burley and Twin Falls Wednesday on a rapid organizational tour across southern Idaho.

He had breakfast in Burley, lunch in Twin Falls, and went on to Boise Wednesday evening for the annual Republican picnic there and planned to visit the state fair.

Hansen is seeking to unseat Rep. Ralph Harding, D., Ida., in the Nov. 3 general election.

In Twin Falls he talked with GOP leaders at a meeting arranged by Charles Lunte, Buhl, Twin Falls county central committee chairman.

At the meeting, William Chancey, Twin Falls, was named county finance chairman and Lunte announced that the county Republican headquarters will be opened Monday in the old Scott's cafe, 100 block of Main avenue west.

Hansen met with Cassia county Republican officials and other interested citizens in Burley to organize his campaign there. He reported on his trip to Washington, D. C., to attend the congressional campaign school there.

Harding's Only Campaign Cost Is Filing Fee

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Rep. Ralph Harding, D. Ida., reported expenses of only $224 in the Idaho primary election campaign, his filing fee.

Harding was unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the second district. His report was received yesterday by Secretary of State Arnold Williams.

Jerome to Have New Shopping Center Soon

JEROME, Aug. 27—Jerome will be the site of a new shopping center, it was announced by Edward N. Jones, official of Perfection Homes and Realty, Salt Lake City, at the weekly Chamber of Commerce meeting held Wednesday noon at Wood's cafe.

Jones and Don Cassidy, attorney for Perfection Homes, answered questions and explained why Jerome was picked for such a site.

The new shopping center will be located just south of the John Deere Implement business and west of the highway. At present, property negotiations are under *way for a five and one-*half acre tract but an additional eight acres is available for future expansion should it be needed, they explained.

Present plans for the shopping center would allow for parking of 224 cars and the shopping center would be *L-shaped. Construc*tion could begin within 30 days, depending upon acceptance by local merchants.

The general contractor would be from Salt Lake City; however, sub-contracts would be let to lo*cal builders.* Supplies and equipment would be purchased in Jerome as much as possible.

The center would be constructed according to Jerome zoning regulations.

In answer why Jerome was selected, the men reported it was brought first to their attention by an Associated Food store that Jerome was losing business to the south side because of lack of parking space and shopping facilities.

A survey was made and results showed that there was a need for a shopping center in Jerome. It is felt much of this business will remain in Jerome and that a shopping center will bring in still more.

One local merchant already has signed an intent to lease. The officials stated they would like about 10 merchants to lease to begin with, but stated that if local acceptance would not carry the project other business would be brought in.

At present, it would be limited to one business of each type, with hopes for a grocery, restaurant, drugstore, bank, women's clothing, men's clothing, shoe stores, etc.

In answer to another question from the audience, it was stated that this was the first time a shopping center would be built in such a small town, but firm officials felt the potential is great enough to warrant the project.

Leases would be for 15 years with two- to five-year options and rentals would be approximately $1.80 per square foot per year, it was reported.

New market studies and travel analysis are to be made and will be presented at a later date.

Approximately 65 people attended the meeting.

Donates

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 27 (AP)—Lottie Shepherd, 92, read that the Oklahoma City police department was short on funds and needed an additional 25 shotguns.

She donated $1,700 yesterday and explained, "We're getting to be such a big town we're getting to the point where we've got to be taken care of."

Savings Bond Queen Has Busy Reign

By MIKE McGREER

The Mrs. Idaho crown was bestowed on her in March, the Mrs. U. S. Savings Bond honor was hers by April, and after visiting some 48 cities, spread over 33,000 miles, Mrs. Adaline Lieberg, Pocatello, arrived in Twin Falls Wednesday as goodwill ambassador for savings bonds.

After she was crowned Mrs. Idaho, Mrs. Lieberg immediately became eligible, not only for the Mrs. America title, but also for the Mrs. U. S. Savings Bonds title, which was bestowed on her the week-end before the Mrs. America pageant. She placed in the top 10 of the Mrs. America pageant.

Mrs. Lieberg, her husband, Odd, and two children, Gerald, 20, and Carolyn, 16, are a group that loves to sit and talk, hike, camp and attend the Lutheran church together.

The family regularly buys savings bonds and when Gerald, who is now studying at Yale on a scholarship, won first prize money in a contest he invested his winnings in savings bonds.

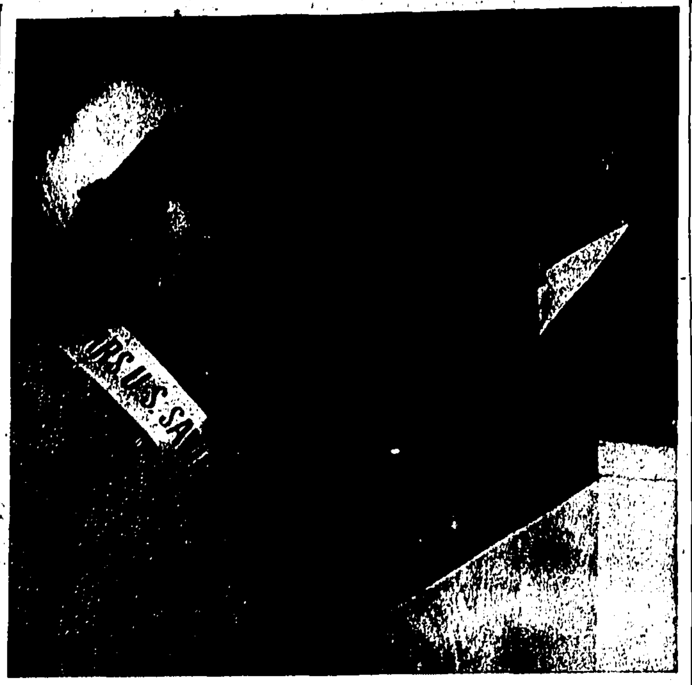
Both Mr. and Mrs. Lieberg grew up on a North Dakota farm. In fact, they were next door neighbors, near Northwood.

After World war II Lieberg worked for Allis Chalmers and in 1958 was named branch manager for the Pocatello branch of the company.

Mrs. Savings Bonds has a long background in PTA, Eastern Star, church and civic activities of all kinds and with her husband has headed all types of fund-raising campaigns for such projects as the United fund, Heart fund, polio and cancer drives and civic music association drives.

Mrs. Lieberg plans to visit most of the larger cities in the United States before she returns to the Mrs. America pageant, where she will crown Mrs. U. S. Savings Bonds of 1965.

During July, residents of eight Magic Valley counties purchased $74,913 worth of bonds, which brings a total sales for the year to $543,827. The sales quota for the area for 1964 is $820,000.



MRS. U. S. SAVINGS BONDS, Mrs. Adaline Lieberg, Pocatello, discusses the bond program with William Powel, president of the Twin Falls Rotary club. Mrs. Lieberg presented a talk to the Rotary Wednesday and left Twin Falls Wednesday night to continue her campaign as official ambassador of good will for U. S. savings bonds. (Times-News photo)

Commission Signs Sunday Beer Order

POCATELLO, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Bannock county commission yesterday signed an order prohibiting the Sunday sale of beer in unincorporated areas of the county.

The commission's action follows an ordinance passed two weeks ago by the Chubbuck village board, which also prohibited Sunday consumption of beer in the village.

Commission chairman Emmette Spraker said since the Chubbuck ordinance was passed, the Sunday beer trade has moved to other areas of the county. Spraker said residents of those areas have voiced "numerous" complaints about operation of establishments where beer is consumed.

The county order permits only the sale of packaged beer in areas of Bannock county which are not included in a municipality or village. Both the city of Pocatello and the village of Chubbuck now prohibit Sunday beer consumption on licensed premises.

Taverns which will be affected by the order include those in and outside the limits of villages such as Inkom, Downey, Lava Hot Springs, Arimo, McCammon and Swan Lake.

Taverns within the limits of incorporated villages are not under county jurisdiction. They could be prevented from selling beer on Sundays only by order of their village boards.

Annual Green Giant Day Planned by Buhl Chamber

BUHL, Aug. 27—Tentative date for the annual Green Giant day observance is Sept. 9 it was announced during the Buhl Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Monday at the R and R cafe.

It is noted Green Giant day is a day set aside by the chamber to acknowledge the annual seasonal corn pack operations at the local plant. Free hot buttered corn on the cob is served to area residents on that day in the Buhl shopping district.

Tourists of the week who were special guests at the chamber's luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Watson, Tulsa, Okla. Dick Snow, tourist of the week chairman, in introducing the couple noted they are en route to Vancouver, British Columbia, to visit a brother and his family.

Watson, superintendent of a cold storage plant in Tulsa, spoke briefly to the group.

He pointed out a number of frozen products, especially frozen trout and potatoes, come to the Tulsa storage plant from Idaho.

Watson stated Tulsa is a fast growing city and now boasts a population of over 300,000. Oil, beef, peanuts, cotton and mixed farming support Tulsa's economy, he asserted.

Magic Valley Favorites

MRS. ARCIE SALLEE
Box 88, Hansen

Bubble Rolls

1 cup milk, scalded
½ cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Let this cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle two packages yeast into this, let yeast dissolve. Add two beaten eggs and four and one-half cups flour. Mix well. Put out on floured board, knead until dough is not sticky. Place in greased bowl, let rise until double in bulk.

Work down and let set 10 minutes. Make little balls, size of a walnut. Melt one stick margarine or butter. Dip balls in butter, then roll in mixture of cinnamon and sugar. (One cup sugar and one tablespoon cinnamon.) Place balls around and around in a greased angel food cake pan. Let rise. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. Turn out of pan.

(The Times-News will pay $5 each week for the best recipe submitted for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Recipe Department, Women's Page editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.)

Princess and Husband Are Shipwrecked

OLBIA, Sardinia, Aug. 27 (UPI)—British Princess Margaret and her husband Lord Snowdon were shipwrecked briefly yesterday when the Aga Khan's yacht Amsloun foundered on rocks off the coast of Sardinia.

One report said the 34-year-old princess was leaning on the rail and was thrown overboard. And that the Aga Khan, 27, dove in immediately to help her.

The princess was "visibly in trouble" in a clinging white dress but apparently not in actual danger of drowning in the relatively shallow water, according to this report.

Lifejackets were thrown to the princess and the Aga Khan. A rubber dinghy was inflated and lowered to them, and they put ashore in that.

The princess is expecting her third child in February.

MELBA, Aug. 27 (UPI) — A Melba housewife who led a crew of 43 teenagers on a month-long 5 a.m. to dark schedule de-tasseling sweet corn says she's convinced youngsters are willing to work.

Mrs. Eileen Ashton said her crew, ranging from 14 to 18 and including both boys and girls, earned about $400 each for their work and two of them will use the money to help start college this fall.

The teen-agers were guests of owners of the farms where they worked at a Wednesday night dinner party in Boise.

Mob Attack on Settlement in Viet Nam Described

(Editor's note: In the following dispatch UPI reporters at the scene describe the mob attack that burned the Roman Catholic settlement of Thanh Bo at Da Nang, 375 miles northeast of Saigon.)

By MICHAEL T. MALLOY

DA NANG, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Only 50 of the 500 houses in Thanh Bo are still standing in the smouldering ruins. Both settlement churches have been destroyed.

Vietnamese paratroopers fired shots in the air last night in an attempt to keep the mob out of the village, but they gave way when the mob surged forward.

Authorities made a last ditch effort to disperse the rioters by faking an air raid alert. Several planes passed overhead, sirens sounded and electric power was cut off. The mob thinned out, then regrouped.

The residents of Thanh Bo, Catholic refugees from North Viet Nam, put up a fierce battle before it fell. The settlement was organized as a strategic hamlet guarded by a militia armed with hand grenades, rifles and automatic weapons.

When the defense finally broke, the cordon of parachutists caved in. An American colonel, John A. Wohner, accused the troops of failing to live up to their promise to defend the hamlet. Wohner is senior adviser to the Vietnamese army's third corps.

UPI photographer Henri Huet was the only newsman to enter Thanh Bo before it was burned. Huet, who is French, scribbled notes on the violence and his report was the only available eyewitness account.

Although not originally intended for publication, Huet's notes provide a graphic description of the scene and are presented here as written:

"Right now Thanh Bo hamlet is surrounded. . by angry demonstrators, students and all kinds of other people who want to enter the village and destroy everything.

"The reasons for this does not seem to be very clear but this afternoon it looks to witnesses to be turning into a religious war.

"I talked to one man of the village who said to me that since they had been surrounded by demonstrators three days, and could not leave their village, they have now got nothing more to eat.

"One company of the sixth airborne is now standing in the village to protect the villagers. The rest of the troops make a cordon on the village limits to stop the demonstrators who want to rush in with evil intentions.

"Even with an airborne battalion standing by to prevent destructive action, the 10,000 angry demonstrators force the troops back and this afternoon they burned all the houses along the waterfront of the Catholic hamlet.

"Colonel Wohner is seeing the destructive action of the demonstrators setting fire to all the houses of Thanh Bo which they can reach.

"He, angrily asks one Vietnamese captain how the demonstration can burn houses by the dozen under the eye of the army.

Colonel Wohner reminds the captain that General Thi has promised him that his troops would assure the protection of the Thanh Bo hamlet.

"Right now at 1830 (6:30 p.m.) the houses are burning and the sound of the alarm bells is ringing in Thanh Bo village.

"In the city of Da Nang, some 3,000 people seem to be in the hands of the demonstrators. Not one policeman can be seen in the streets.

"All the shops, bars, restaurants and markets are closed and it is impossible now to find anything to buy, even food.

"It is now 2200 hours (10 p.m.) and I just got information that the village of Bo Thanh is no more existing.

"All the village is in flame and those people who come ten years ago from communist North Viet Nam aboard their junks, took refuge now aboard these same junks looking for security far away on the sea."

City Police Probe Four Accidents

Twin Falls police investigated five accidents in the city Tuesday, with no injuries reported.

Anton Kodesch, 30, John Day, Ore., told police he was driving a 1958 Plymouth on Third street east at 4:30 p.m. when his vehicle entered Second avenue east and was struck by a 1955 International truck being driving by Gene H. Thomas, 17, route 2.

Kodesh told police he entered the intersection blindly because visibility was blocked by vehicles parked along the highway.

Damage was estimated at $75 to the car and $50 to the truck. No citations were issued.

G. D. Jensen, 53, West Union, Ia., was cited for an improper left turn after his 1964 Chevrolet turned into the path of a 1949 Chevrolet driven east on Second avenue west by Mrs. Judy Webb, 17, 345 Martin street.

Both vehicles were being driven west on Second avenue west when Jensen attempted the improper turn.

Damage was listed at $300 to both cars.

Linda Lee Bryson, 17, 1816 Elizabeth boulevard, backed a 1955 Mercury at 8:11 a.m. from a driveway at 1692 Kimes street and into a properly parked 1959 Chevrolet owned by Gloria Christensen, 800 Marucle street.

Damage was estimated at $100 to the Chevrolet and $15 to the Mercury. No citation was issued.

A 1951 Chevrolet driven by Robert B. Martin, 19, route 2, Tuesday on Addison avenue west, struck the rear of a 1957 Dodge being driven by Richard Rawlings, 18, 325 Polk street.

No citations were issued, but damage was estimated at $125 to the Chevrolet and $175 to the Dodge.

U. S. Fitness Winner Talks For Lions

Miss Physical Fitness of the U. S., Terri Thornock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVear Thornock, demonstrated the routines and exercises which won her the title in July to the members and guests of the Twin Falls Lion's club, at their noon meeting Wednesday in the Rogerson hotel Roundup room.

The judging at the national contest was based [illegible] ability, balance, coordination and strength. The routines were developed under the late President Kennedy's physical fitness program.

Also during the meeting, William (Bill) Nutting was appointed light bulb chairman and Floyd (Tex) Owens was chosen attendance and membership chairman.

Winners of the Lions club golf tournament, held Wednesday afternoon at the Twin Falls Municipal golf course, will be announced at the next Wednesday meeting.

Guests included John Williams, Robert Schroeder, Don Hudson and Mrs. LaVear Thornock.

Mini-Cassia Club Reports Winners

BURLEY, Aug. 27—The Mini-Cassia Duplicate Bridge club had nine and a half tables in play Tuesday evening at the Burley Elks hall.

North and south winners were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Soloman, first; Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, second; Mrs. Ralph Basich and Mrs. Lester Sanders, third; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walton, Rupert, fourth.

East and west winners included Mrs. M. Manning and Mrs. Max Hogg, first; Mr. and Mrs. Howell Gnau, Heyburn, second; Mrs. Kent Woodland and Mrs. Haven Gierisch, third; L. C. Hunter and Barbara Zollinger, fourth.

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Organized labor is making plans to get the next legislature to raise the wage ceiling on unemployment taxes in Idaho.

Darrell Dorman, executive president of the Idaho state AFL-CIO, said this will be one of the goals of his organization in the legislative campaign ahead and the legislative session to follow the first of the year.

Dorman, who is a member of the employment security agency's advisory council, said that while the ESA reserve fund is in pretty good shape, his organization believes that it should be kept that way.

"Last year in reviewing the thing," he said, "they found they didn't collect as much in premiums as they paid out in benefits. The difference was made up in interest collected on their surplus.

"We believe they should collect in premiums the same amount they pay out—especially when times are good because we may run into really rough times," Dorman said.

This, he said, might be accomplished by raising the wage ceiling on which the unemployment taxes are based. At present that ceiling is $3,600. Dorman said it should be raised at least to the same level as the ceiling for social security taxes.

The ESA's advisory council took up the subject of the wage ceiling for jobless pay taxes at a recent Boise meeting but reached no conclusions. A recommendation is expected to come from that group after its next meeting, Nov. 30-Dec. 1.

Dorman said the AFL-CIO also wants Idaho's industrial disease law rewritten so "it fully covers all industrial diseases." He said with new chemicals and new industries in today's society the sources of disease can change. At present, he said, only certain specific diseases are spelled out in the code.

Other labor goals in the months ahead, Dorman reported, include changing the definition of a labor dispute in the Idaho law to bring it more in line with the Taft-Hartley act.

He said, the Idaho law now defines a labor dispute as between the employer and a majority of his employes and "that coupled with the secondary boycott law we have now makes it nearly impossible to organize."

Under the Taft-Hartley law, he said, if union workers go out on strike the union retains its status as bargaining agent for a year. He said that under the Idaho law, striking workers could be replaced and those on strike could lose their bargaining status.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The stock market closed higher today as Chrysler erased an early loss and moved upward. Trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.4 million shares compared with 3.3 million Wednesday.

Other auto stocks were unchanged to higher. The UAW postponed the strike threat from Aug. 31 to Sept. 9. General Motors rose well over a point, Ford a fraction.

Steels were slightly higher on balance. Selective gains among blue chips helped the averages. Du Pont rose about 3 and Westinghouse Electric more than a point.

Buckingham Corp. was up a point and Schenley a fraction on word that Schenley has bought more than half the stock of Buckingham.

Gillette sank ⅜ to 25¼ on a block of 20,400 shares, touching a new low for the year.

U. S. Smelting was up about 4. Gains of around 2 each were made by IBM and Polaroid.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U. S. government bonds were unchanged.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. A while back, you answered a question concerning the reporting of capital gains, for tax purposes, when mutual fund shares are sold.

Doyle

I got the impression that, regardless of any dividends and/or capital gains reinvested in additional shares and thus declared on each year's federal income tax return, the net appreciation (increase in value) would have to be reported as a capital gain when the shares are finally redeemed.

You did not mean it this way, did you? What is the proper way to take into account the dividends and/or capital gains distributions already declared — to eliminate double taxation?

A. Yes, I did mean it that way. And there's no double taxation involved.

When you redeem shares of a mutual fund, the difference between your "cost basis" and the amount you receive is either a capital gain or a capital loss. That's basic.

You should, of course, know your cost basis. That can save you tax dollars.

As an example, say that you invest $1,000 in shares of a mutual fund and that you keep your investment for 10 years.

Say that during those 10 years the mutual fund pays you a total of $500 in dividends and $300 in capital gains distributions. You report these each year on your federal income tax return and pay taxes on them—whether you take them in cash or reinvest them in additional shares.

But, to go along with your question, say that you have reinvested the $800 of dividends and capital gains distributions in additional shares.

At that point, you own more shares than you did when you first invested—because the $800 you have reinvested bought you more shares.

And your cost basis on the total number of shares you own is $1,800—the $1,000 you originally invested, plus the $800 you reinvested.

And say that you redeem your shares for $2,800. You have a profit of $1,000. That $1,000 must be reported as a capital gain.

Q. From money earned on his paper route, my young son intends to buy some series E, U.S. savings bonds. He will be a grown man, working and paying federal income taxes, when he cashes in those bonds. Is there any way he can ease the tax bite on the interest building up on the bonds?

A. He could start filing federal income tax returns right now. That could save him a fair number of tax dollars.

A person owning series E, U.S. savings bonds, has a choice of two ways to report the interest building up on the bonds. He can report it every year as the interest accrues (builds up), or he can wait until he cashes each bond and report the accrued interest as income for the year in which he cashes the bond.

Most people use the second method because it's the easy method. But it's not always the best method.

Because your son will evidently have very little income until he is a grown man, he could use the former method—report his E bond interest each year, and not have to report the total amount all in one year in the future.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Indicator Digest Inc., says a major test would take place if the Dow-Jones industrial average dropped back to its Viet Nam low in the 820-825 level.

The firm says this is a crucial support area which should hold firm if the bull market is to be kept intact. If penetrated, this would be considered a Dow theory bear signal, indicating a reversal of the uptrend.

Leslie M. Pollack of Reynolds and company also is concerned about the technical picture and continues to advise a cautious investment policy.

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks and company says the new near term low recorded in the rails, coupled with extremely light volume on the recent industrial advance suggests the possibility of renewed liquidation such as that seen in July.

Applications for Bus Permits Eyed

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Idaho public utilities commission Wednesday set a 20-day period to receive written protests on two applications for school bus carrier permits.

Seeking the permits are A. N. Ambrose, Wendell, for the Wendell school district and Sam Taylor, St. Maries, for district 394 in Shoshone county.

The commission granted James E. Murphy, Paul, temporary authority to carry potato mash within a 10-mile radius of Rupert.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Yankee tourist dollars have been flowing freely to Mexico and the Caribbean but South America is getting comparatively few of them. And with American tourism a growing industry, wooed by many countries, the continent to the south may be missing a good bet.

Sam Dawson

That is the opinion of banking economists specializing in the financial relations of the Western Hemisphere. Their conclusion is that South American countries just aren't trying hard enough to get their share.

Americans last year spent 448 million dollars in Mexico. U.S. travelers, mostly tourists, spent 150 million dollars in 1963 in the Caribbean area. About 100,000 Americans spent 56 million dollars travelling in South America, and a good part of that probably was spent on business trips rather than tourist jaunts.

The South American share of the total U.S. expenditure on tourist travel last year was only 3.5 per cent, little changed in the last five years, when American travel abroad was increasing by leaps and bounds.

The department of commerce reports U.S. residents last year spent 3.2 billion dollars in travel out of the country, much for pleasure though some for business. This was a gain of 11 per cent over 1962.

Admittedly, Mexico and the islands to the south have the advantage of closeness and less expensive transportation cost. But economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York say that equally important have been the efforts made to attract tourists. These include advertising and setting up information centers in the United States, as well as upgrading hotel, dining and transportation facilities.

The bank economists report:

"Last year, Mexican exports totaled 982 million dollars, while tourism from all countries pulled in some 655 million dollars. This permitted the country to show a 144 million dollar surplus in its over-all balance of payments."

Jamaica is another example. Its total merchandise exports last year came to 26 million dollars, but receipts from U.S. tourists were 40 million dollars.

The economists say Venezuela and Colombia have made some efforts to get in on the gravy, but the rest of South America has done very little.

Report on Fair Given at Grange

WENDELL, Aug. 27—Eighty-seven ribbons were received by Wendell Grange members at the Gooding county fair, it was reported by Mrs. Arthur Byce, secretary, at the Grange meeting Tuesday night.

There were 27 blue ribbons, 37 red and 23 white ribbons received. Members made plans to serve a public dinner on election day, Nov. 3. Officers of the Grange will be elected at the first September meeting, according to Ray Ruby, master.

Mrs. Elmer Johnson, home economics chairman, requested that all needlework for the contest be turned in by the last meeting in September so entries can be judged before the state Grange convention in October.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stickle and Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Atkinson served refreshments.

UAW Picks Chrysler as Strike Target

DETROIT, Aug. 27 (UPI) — The United Auto Workers (UAW) union has chosen Chrysler corporation as the strike target for the 1964 round of auto-industry negotiations and set a strike deadline of 10 a.m. Sept. 9.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther announced last night Chrysler was the target following a 90-minute meeting of the union's international executive board. Reuther said he would ask for day-to-day extensions of contracts at Ford and General Motors. Big Three contracts covering nearly 600,000 workers were scheduled to expire Aug. 31.

The union president also said he was asking the 450,000 workers at GM and Ford to remain on the job pending the outcome of Chrysler negotiations.

Reuther's announcement came shortly before midnight to a packed news conference at Solidarity house, the union's riverfront headquarters.

It also came on the same day Reuther breakfasted with President Johnson in Washington. However, the labor leader denied that he discussed with President Johnson the status of the current negotiations.

Reuther said the union would concentrate its bargaining efforts on Chrysler until a settlement was reached and "then move to Ford and then to GM."

Hard bargaining is scheduled to resume Friday afternoon when Reuther heads a union bargaining team at the Chrysler table. The Chrysler National council was scheduled to meet Friday morning and the GM council Saturday.

The economic offers spurned by the union included higher wages, longer vacations, increased pensions and earlier retirement, increased insurance benefits and insurance benefits for widows of corporation workers.

Problems Are Listed for Area Hospital

NAMPA, Aug. 27 (AP)—The medical director of the state tuberculosis hospital at Gooding yesterday said low salaries at the institution are a problem, reflected in failure to find a scrub nurse.

Dr. Kenneth Tyler said applicants for the nursing vacancy won't accept the $325 starting salary that is offered but want $375. He said salaries at the hospital have been unchanged since 1963, partly because of a 4.8 per cent holdback in state spending.

Dr. Tyler said the hospital's employes haven't joined other health department employes in increases since that time under a new salary schedule.

He and other heads of state health institutions reported to Dr. Terrell O. Carver, Idaho health administrator. Their conference continued today in Boise with a meeting with state budget director Don J. Walker.

Dr. Myrick Pullen said wage increases at state hospital north were delayed for six months in 1963 by money problems. He said the hospital is working on improvements to qualify for a state license.

Dr. Erwin Sage said a new 1.25 million dollar medical building dedicated Tuesday at Nampa state school won't require immediate additions to the staff. He said he is replacing hospital aides with licensed practical nurses to improve the quality of care and is improving the housekeeping program.

Arthur Beymer Honored at Rites

RUPERT, Aug. 27 — Funeral services were conducted for Arthur F. Beymer Wednesday afternoon in the First Methodist church by the Rev. Raymond A. Thompson.

Mrs. Charles H. Lehrman was organist and Claud Bowman was soloist.

Honorary pallbearers were L. L. Culbertson, Dr. O. A. Moellmer, Ray L. Harbour, John Burnside, Henry T. Brenzel, and H. V. Creason. Active pallbearers included Robert Reed, Dr. D. P. Slavin, Elmer Rosecrans, Ward W. Woolford, John Remsberg and Floyd Pruitt.

Flowers were cared for by Mrs. Ruby Gillmore, Mrs. Edwin Miller, Mrs. John Remsberg, Mrs. John Burnside, Mrs. Thomas Maberly, Mrs. Grover Newman and Mrs. D. P. Slavin.

Concluding rites were held at the Rupert cemetery.

TURKEY MAY SHOOT

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 27 (UPI) —Turkey will "shoot if necessary" to force rotation of about half its 650-man army contingent on Cyprus if President Makarios continues to refuse permission for a peaceful shift of men, informed sources said today.

Senators' Narum Stops Yanks 2-0 On Five-Hitter

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Lester (Buster) Narum, with only one victory to his credit in more than two months, chilled the New York bats Wednesday with a stunning five-hitter for a 2-0 Washington triumph that short-circuited the Yankees' drive to overtake the American league - leading Baltimore Orioles. Right-hander Mel Stottlemyre, previously unbeaten rookie sensation, permitted only four Senator hits himself but had the misfortune of allowing half of the total in the fifth inning.

Those pair of hits, a double by Mike Brumley and a single by Don Zimmer, together with a rare misplay by catcher Elston Howard, paved the way for both Washington runs. They led to Narum's ninth victory against 10 defeats, and only his second triumph since June 21.

A fine shoestring catch by center fielder Don Lock of a liner by Mickey Mantle with two on and one out in the ninth snuffed out the last Yankee hope. Lock came in fast for the sharply hit ball and threw to second to double up Tony Kubek.

Narum also pitched himself out of a serious jam in the seventh after Tommy Tresh had singled and advanced to second on a walk to Mantle with nobody out. The young right-hander retired Roger Maris on a fly ball which sent Tresh to third, then induced Joe Pepitone to ground into a double play.

Dodgers Nip Giants 2-1 In Last Inning

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27 (AP) — Doug Camilli blooped a run-producing single to center field with two out in the ninth inning, bringing the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants Wednesday night.

Frank Howard started the Dodgers' winning rally in the ninth inning when he singled with one out. Wes Parker went in to run for Howard and reached second on a ground out. After Nate Oliver was walked intentionally, Camilli came through with his game-winning hit.

Chicago Ends Houston's Win Streak

HOUSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Homeruns by Ernie Banks and Ron Santo helped Larry Jackson to his 16th victory as the Chicago Cubs stopped Houston's sixgame winning streak with a 3-1 triumph Wednesday night.

Jackson, who has lost 10 games, scattered six hits, two coming in the sixth inning when the Colts scored their run. Pinch hitter Carroll Hardy opened the inning with a single, went to second on a passed ball, moved to third on an infield out and came home as Nellie Fox singled.

Rifle Title Is Won by Rackel

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 27 (AP) — Lawrence G. Rackel, Saginaw, Mich., won the Wimbledon trophy Wednesday eliminating 91 other high powered rifle shooters at the national rifle and pistol matches.

Firing at 1,000 yards, shooters were eliminated if their shots were out of an approximate three-inch diameter area in the middle of the bull's eye.

Rackel and William O. Wolf, Rosewell, N.M., the final two shooters, each pumped eight shots into the small area before Rackel hit on the ninth. Wolf's shot was slightly off.

Phillies Bury Braves Under Homer Attack

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27 (AP) — The national league-leading Philadelphia Phillies backed up Chris Short's tight pitching with a barrage of four homeruns Wednesday and salvaged the finale of three-game series with the Milwaukee Braves, 6-1.

Gus Triandos hit two homers and Ruben Amaro and Tony Gonzales one each as Short registered his 14th victory.

The Braves had piled up 19 runs in winning the first two games of the series and saddling the Phillies with their first two-game losing streak since July 26.

12 Vetrans Bolster Valley Grid Outlook

HAZELTON, Aug. 27—The Valley Vikings returned to the Big Eight conference fold after a year's absence and coach Lyle Uscola will have a lot of rebuilding to do in the line. Graduation took eight of his regulars but the Viking backfield appears to be in good condition. Lost were Rob Rogerson, Jim Rogers, Courtney Hohnhorst, Don Pline, Gary Kincaid, Jim Southworth, Jim McCauley and Don Roes. Their vacancies will be filled by 12 returning lettermen.

In the backfield, coach Uscola, a graduate of Idaho State and star at Heyburn before that, can count on quarterback Lupe Torres, who stands 5 feet, 11 inches and weighs 150 pounds. Terry English, who got away on some long runs last year, is back at left halfback, carrying 165 pounds. Junior Jerry Hughes, a 190 pounder, is a veteran fullback, and Juan Galindo, who weighs 160 pounds, at the other halfback slot.

The Vikings appear the strongest in the line at end and tackle. Six-foot Cal Olson, a 160-pound junior, 6-foot, 3-inch, 175-pound Rick Kelly and Paul Kaserman, 170-pound senior, carry the end hopes. At tackle are Curt Hanson, 5 feet, 9 inches and 190 pounds, and Bob Wood, a 6-foot, 1-inch, 200-pound senior.

The lone guard returnee is 170-pound Gary Hall.

The Valley schedule was not released.

Chicago Nips Twins 2-1 in 12th Inning

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox pushed across a run in the 12th inning on an error by Rich Rollins, a passed ball and Don Buford's single, defeated Minnesota 2-1 Wednesday night and climbed to within one percentage point of the American league lead.

The victory left the White Sox trailing first-place Baltimore .606 to .605. The Orioles lost to Cleveland 3-2.

Rollins opened the door in the 13th when he grabbed Gerry McNertney's grounder and fired over first base as McNertney raced to second. After McNertney took third on a passed ball by Earl Battey, Gene Stephens was intentionally walked.

Jim Landis then drew another walk off Johnny Klippstein, loading the bases, before Buford rapped his game-winning hit.

New Coach Greeted by Veteran Backfield, 7 Jerome Lettermen

JEROME, Aug. 27—The coach will be new but there will be several familiar faces around Sept. 4 when the Jerome Tigers begin their 1964 football season. Taking over the coaching helm is Darrell C. Moore, replacing Frank Schorer, who resigned last spring to continue his education. Moore, who hails from Chicago, coached at Wilder last year and attended Gettysburg college. The Tigers lost six men off last year's club that finished with an 8-1 record. One of these was 245-pound Dennis Smith, who played three years at a tackle spot.

With Smith gone and much of the interior line, coach Moore finds his biggest problems up front. He is solid in the backfield—provided the injury jinx doesn't show up.

Heading the backfield is Mel Tinker, who many expect to be one of the state's top quarterbacks Tinker's forte is running but he also can do everything else required of a top quarterback.

At the halfback spots are the identical twins, Steve and Stan Millard, both checking in at 180 pounds. And both have lettered for the past two seasons. Looking good at fullback is 205-pound Pat Williams, a junior, who also just might be the best place kicker around. Williams played mostly in the line last year.

If Tinker, standing 6 feet, 1 inches and weighing 180 pounds, decides to throw, he has veteran ends in Bob Thackery, a 170-pound senior, and Bill King, a 175 pounder. Jim Blamires, who can also play guard, occasionally will see action at end.

Coach Moore is high on three seniors who didn't play last year for various reasons. Jim Vining, injured last year, and Davis head up the guard contingent and Larry Dahmer, who skipped play in 1963, has looked sharp at center.

The biggest thing the Tigers want is revenge for last year's showing against Twin Falls when Jerome fell apart and what was expected to be a tight game turned into a 44-0 rout.

"We're looking forward to that game," says quarterback Tinker. "They (Twin Falls) might beat us again this year but nothing like 44-0."

The Tigers, who have only two games in the South Central Idaho conference, also will be the first Magic Valley team to test Boise's Catholic high school, Bishop Kelly.

The Jerome schedule includes Sept. 4, Jerome at Meridian; Sept. 11, Jerome at Filer; Sept. 18, Jerome at Elko; Sept. 25, Twin Falls at Jerome; Oct. 9, Gooding at Jerome; Oct. 16, Bishop Kelly at Jerome; Oct. 23, Burley at Jerome; Oct. 20, Mountain Home at Jerome, and Nov. 11, Jerome at Buhl.

McElhenny Is Unfamiliarly Unemployed

(By the Associated Press)

Hugh McElhenny can't recall the last time he went job-hunting in August.

The King has had steady autumn employment for almost 20 years, the last 12 as a living legend in the National Football league.

Today, however, 36-year-old McElhenny heads a group of disappointed gridders faced with a professional dead-end. The onetime All-America and all-pro halfback was among some 50 veterans and rookies sliced from National and American league squads.

The NFL clubs trimmed their rosters to 45 men, the AFL to 43. Both leagues have until Sept. 8, a week before their season kickoffs, to make the final limits of 40 (NFL) and 34 (AFL).

McElhenny, who has gained over 10,000 yards since his rookie of the year debut with the San Francisco 49ers in 1952, was surprised when the New York Giants made his release part of a wholesale shake-up.

"I'm in better health now than in the last two years," he said. "I had intended to make this season my last one. Now, I'm not sure what I'll do, but if the right offer comes along. . ."

Rams Will Try New Number 26

ORANGE, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams may start a new number 26 Saturday against the Minnesota Vikings.

Wearing Jon Arnett's old number will be Willie Brown. But it's a familiar old number to Brown, too.

Arnett first gained fame as No. 26 in the University of Southern California backfield, and was assigned the same numeral when he moved over to the Rams. But Brown was assigned the same number when he followed Arnett at USC.

Boxing Club Told To Bring Sport Back to Decency

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 27 (AP) — Boxing is close to mination as a major sports activity, commissioner be J. Greene told the World Boxing association contion Thursday and urged that "we put it back on e sports pages in decency and take it out of the front page headlines of despair."

Greene said boxing had been a major factor in the development of television but now the last nationally shown boxing series is about to suspend while television time for other sports is on the increase.

He pointed out that the other sports controlled television but that "boxing gives itself away, a pure unadulterated patsy."

Greene also struck at "interloping promoters with little knowledge and no interest in boxing," who, he said, latched onto the heavyweight championship prize, milked it of millions of dollars but left nothing for the sport itself.

He said that the first step in the rehabilitation of the sport was to forget personal and interstate rivalries and to think in terms of the sport as a whole.

"The time has come," he told the delegates, "to demand that these wards of ours, I mean the interloping promoters, share in the safe conduct and protection of the sport. Boxing, having consumed its young and permitted monsters like television to help destroy it should now demand that its new offsprings support the parents."

He demanded that a part of the money paid for future ring television productions, either home or theater showings, be set aside to promote the sport and to protect fighters who have retired.

The scheduling of Magic Valley's duck huting season by the aho fish and game commission mes as a surprise, albeit pleast, but is bound make this ata persona n grata with e U.S. wildlife rvice.

The state commission splurged ck hunters in agic Valley d the Boise s to 107 conutive days waterfowling.

s could be a record. The sean will run from Oct. 10 rough Jan. 27—the longest it er has been held open.

But those reading the Timesews sports page last Friday should remember that the interior department gave the Pacific flyway the outside dates of Oct. 10 through Jan. 10 and within that span Idaho had the option of 90 consecutive days or it on a split-season arrangement.

The rest of the state will have the interior department regulation season of 90 days, running Oct. 10 through Jan. 7.

In tweaking the wildlife service's collective nose, the Idaho commission doubtlessly was listening to the many years of complaint lodged by Magic Valley and Boise area hunters that the season is just ending when the winter flocks are starting to congregate.

The Lake Lowell area, out of Nampa, winters hundreds of thousands of ducks each year and the farmers complain of personal losses. In Magic Valley the field hunting usually becomes good around Christmas time and January generally averages 500 birds per field. (With the exception of last year when the majority of birds suddenly left just before the season's end.)

What will disturb the interior department, however, is its contention that the Pacific flyway might have a slight decline in duck population or at best just be comparable to last year. This claim is substantiated to a degree from the quarterly reports of Ducks Unlimited which stated production in western Canada was down due to droughts.

While most of Canada's western province ducks use the central flyway, DU statistics prove that a percentage do "leak" into the Pacific flyway.

For this year Idaho ranks as non-conformist in 22 counties. Magic Valley hunters should benefit if the usual pattern continues.

And while the commission was opening up on ducks, it didn't let pheasants get away lightly. This area will have a 43½-day upland game season that will run from Oct. 24 through Dec. 6, another unheard of closing date. In addition, hens will be legal targets for 40 of those days and the daily limit is four.

The bluff country to the north offers the longest season on the most contrary of all Idaho's sports bird — the chuckar partridge. That season runs from Sept. 12 through Dec. 31 and it wouldn't surprise too much if, considering the chukar's amazing ability to persevere and continue to reproduce, that this season could get longer in the future.

All in all it appears area hunters will have good reason to remember the 1964 bird hunting seasons.

Wrigley Rejects Offer for Cubs

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs are not for sale—not even for 40 million dollars.

That's what owner Phil Wrigley said Wednesday following a reported offer of 4.3 million dollars for the baseball club.

The bid was publicized by two Chicago attorneys, David N. Rosner and Harvey L. Walner who said they represented a six-man syndicate headed by Edwin Miller, insurance executive.

The attorneys described Miller as a former Cub batboy but did not identify Miller's five associates.

Six Americans Gain in Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 27 (AP)—Two Australians and six Americans survived second-round matches in the world senior golf tournament at Broadmoor Wednesday.

H. H. Hattersley, Mosman, Australia, had to go 20 holes before stopping Dan Hawskinson of Rockford, Ill. His countryman, Jack Barkel of Sydney, strayed only one stroke over par in a 5 and 4 triumph over Leon Sikes of Palm Beach, Fla.

Ian Cromb of Christchurch, New Zealand, lost to Ben Cowdery of Omaha 3 and 2.

The tournament is limited to players 55 or older.

Tigers Power Past Boston For 4-1 Win

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP) — Dave Wickersham posted his 16th victory with a five-hitter while Don Demeter and Jerry Lumpe hit homers, leading Detroit to a 4-1 victory over Boston Wednesday night.

Wickersham, who has lost nine game, was locked in a scoreless duel with Boston's Bob Heffner until the sixth when Demeter triggered a two-run rally with a towering shot that cleared the screen atop the left field wall.

That ended a string of 19 1-3 scoreless innings put together by Heffner.

Idaho Dove Season Opens On Tuesday

BOISE, Aug. 27—Idaho's daily bag limit on doves has been increased to 12 birds for the season which runs from Sept. 1-15, it was announced today by John R. Woodworth, director of the Idaho fish and game department. Possession limit after opening day has been set at 24 doves.

Regulations require that shotguns not larger than 10 gauge, and incapable of holding more than three shells, may be used. A "duck stamp" is not required.

The department reminded hunters that fire dangers are high and that care must be taken to prevent property damage. Permission should always be obtained before hunting on private property.

Dove hunting hours are from a half-hour before sunrise to sunset, Woodworth said, on all days of the season including opening day. Due to differences in the timing across Idaho, the shooting hours will vary in the different regions.

Mourning doves may be hunted in Blaine, Butte, Custer, Camas, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka, Gooding, Cassia, Lemhi and Twin Falls counties during the following hours:

Two Drivers Join Exclusive Club

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 27 (AP)—Two drivers joined the exclusive 200 miles per hour club Wednesday in the Bonneville national speed trials.

Jack Lufkin, Downey, Calif., drove his Corvette to a record-shattering 204.257 miles per hour in class C competition. The old record was 181.257.

Taissano Bros., Gardena, Calif., claimed a record for stock bodied gasoline powered cars when Texan Jim Short drove their supercharged Chrysler-engined Studebaker coupe at 201.744 miles per hour over the course. The old record was 197.368 miles per hour.

Buhl Boasts Experience at All Positions for 1964 Grid Year

BUHL, Aug. 27—With senior veterans available for every position and one left over the Buhl Indians and coach Eddie Peterson head into the 1964 season with hopes of improving on last year's mark. The Indians posted a 6-3 record in 1963 and were voted in the state's top 10 in the final Associated Press poll. But perhaps the biggest reason for that, powerful fullback-linebacker Alan Dowd, is missing. The Indians lost six starters from last year's squad, including Dowd, Don Hutchins and 240-pound Dave Schriever. This season's club has no one to match Schriever's size but the overall average of the line will be about 175 to 180 pounds. And the backfield will have experience headed up by halfback Rany Baxter and quarterback Clark Griffin.

Coach Peterson has a likely fullback replacement for Dowd in Joe Martin, who saw considerable action last year. And at 180 pounds Martin is only 15 pounds away from Dowd's playing weight.

Baxter, a whippet who can also turn on straight ahead power with 180 pounds behind him, Mike Pierce, a 165 pounder and Harley Bennett, 140 pounds, give the Indians strength at halfback.

Fred Brailsford, 170 pounder, is the center veteran and Dan Kern, 150, and Tom Skeem, 160, have lettered at guard. The tackle spots boast 180-pound Jim Barker and Ray Orr, five pounds lighter.

At end are two-year veteran Terry Dowd, 6 feet, 165 pounds, and 5-foot, 10-inch Gary Patrick, 170 pounds. Griffin, who has lettered twice at quarterback, stands 6 feet, 2 inches—and weighs 185 pounds.

The Indians open their season at Twin Falls, renewing a six-year rivalry. Both clubs have won three, Buhl the first three and Twin Falls the last, although the Bruins had to have a late touchdown and luck on a dropped Buhl pass in the final seconds to make a 13-7 decision stick last year.

The complete Buhl schedule includes Sept. 5, Buhl at Twin Falls; Sept. 11, Valley at Buhl; Sept. 18, Buhl at Burley; Oct. 2, Shelley at Buhl; Oct. 9, Minico at Buhl; Oct. 16, Buhl at Mountain Home; Oct. 23, Idaho Falls at Buhl; Oct. 30, Buhl at Gooding; Nov. 6, Buhl at Filer, and Nov. 11, Jerome at Buhl. All games start at 8 p.m. except the last two, which will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Sagehen Hunt

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP) — The Idaho fish and game commission has set a two-day sage grouse season for most of Southern Idaho, Sept. 12-13, with a bag and possession limit of two birds.

In the western part of Owyhee county the season will be longer, Sept. 12-27 with limits of three.

Hunting is scheduled Sept. 12 in most of the state for blue ruffed and Franklin grouse.

Indians Nip Orioles in 8th Inning

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP) — Johnny Romano's bunt single drove in the tie-breaking run in a two-run eighth inning rally that gave the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the American league leading Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night.

The Indians have a 10-5 edged in the season series with the Orioles and are 7-2 at Baltimore, where the Orioles have lost only 24 games all year, and for the second straight night, they beat Baltimore with an eighth inning rally.

Money Split Kills Golfing "Incentive"

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Aug. 27 (AP)—High finance on the pro tour has dulled the incentive of many golfers and turned them into parasites, Ben Hogan said today.

"It's not a matter of the big purses but the way the money is distributed," the four-time national open winner said.

"A fellow doesn't have to work on his game any more. All he has to do is show up for a tournament. He can finish far down the list, pick up a pretty good paycheck and make a comfortable living on the efforts of others.

"The money distribution system is all wrong. The big money should go to the leaders, the fellows such as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Ken Venturi who are out there always struggling to improve their game. The couldn't-care-less fellows should get little or nothing."

Hogan, now 52 and returning to the Oakland Hills scene where he won the third of his opens 13 years ago, failed to specify a particular tournament but he virtually drew a map of the $200,000 Carlin World Championship.

The sport's richest event has a prize list scaled down from $35,000 for first and $17,000 for second to $1,000-and over for 36 places. Each of the 155 players teeing off, 48 of them for 13 foreign nations, is assured $400. Three-fourths of them can count on at least $750.

"That makes this an exhibition, not a tournament," Hogan said.

Costly Ace

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Aug. 27 (AP)—Arnold Palmer shot a hole in one in two Wednesday and barely escaped a $25 fine.

Practicing for the Carling world tournament opening Thursday, the Latrobe, Pa., pro hit a drive on the 194-yard 17th which missed the green. Unhappy with it, he teed up another ball and knocked it into the hole with a four-iron—a sort of Mulligan.

Under PGA rules a $25 fine is assessed for players who hit a second shot on par 3 holes in practice.

Weather Cancels Yacht Cup Trials

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 27 (AP)—Both American and British races of the America's cup contenders were canceled Wednesday because of bad weather.

The races between the Britsh yachts Sovereign and Kurrewa V seeking the right to challenge for the old mug, and between Constellation and American Eagle were called off when thick fog and drizzle enveloped the start area and visibility was cut down to no more than 100 yards.

Berra Loses Faith in N.Y. Bullpen

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — Yogi Berra will never admit it but he appears to have lost faith in his beleaguered bullpen crew.

Barring a change of mind the New York Yankee manager plans from now on to have his starters double in relief as the Yanks go all out to overtake first-place Baltimore in quest of their fifth successive American league pennant.

Although Berra had all his relievers rested and ready, he chose to bring in starter Al Downing in the ninth inning Tuesday night in the Yanks' 4-1 triumph over Washington.

"Downing needed the work," said Berra, careful not to make it appear he was critical of his relief corps. "He hadn't pitched since Saturday and he is not due to start again until Friday.

"He did good, didn't he? And I'm gonna do the same with Jim Bouton. And Ford on Saturday. I'll have them in the bullpen.

"Why not? They go down there to throw some anyway. I told Downing not to start throwing until I gave the word. I gave it to him in the eighth inning. All I want from those guys is an inning, or even to pitch to one batter if the game is close.

"I figure instead of throwing for exercise, they can help us win a game."

Asked how he liked his latest rescuer, Downing, Ford beamed and said: "Great. But it's too bad. He was such a good starter."

Bouton, dressing nearby, let out a guffaw.

"Don't laugh, Bouton," admonished pitcher-coach Ford, "you're next."

Wilson Returns To Rams' Fold

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27 (AP)—Bruising fullback Ben Wilson, who quit the Los Angeles Rams because he wanted to go to dental school has decided to return, the Rams announced Wednesday.

Key to Wilson's decision was the location of a dental school that will allow the former University of Southern California great to take a leave of absence during football seasons.

The Rams declined to name the school for fear such revelation would endanger Wilson's chances to enroll. Dental schools normally require students to attend for consecutive semesters, a Rams spokesman said.

Wilson was the Ram's No. 2 ground gainer as a rookie last year even through he started only nine of the 14 games.

Area Army Reserve Forces Commended by Commander

FT. LEWIS, Wash., Aug. 27—Units of the 96th command headquarters, U. S. army reserve, undergoing two weeks of summer camp training here, were praised this week by the deputy commander of Sixth U. S. army, Presidio of San Francisco.

"The 96th is a very fine organization," reported Maj. Gen. John E. Theimer, "and I am impressed by its activities and training."

General Theimer is in charge of reserve components of the Sixth army area, which includes the western states.

He said Maj. Gen. Michael B. Kauffman, commanding general of the 96th, and Brig. Gen. Ray D. Free, deputy commander, both Salt Lake City, were "good commanders and were effective in their administration."

"I am impressed by the organization of the 96th units," he said.

General Theimer, accompanied by General Kauffman, General Free and Maj. Gen. William C. Garrison, X U. S. army corps commander, Ft. Lawton, Wash., visited the 96th command headquarters, 700th transportation company, 306th aviation battery, 364th quartermaster battalion, all Salt Lake City; sixth howitzer battalion, 83rd artillery, Ogden, and the 372nd quartermaster battalion, Pocatello.

The Pocatello unit has companies in Idaho Falls and Twin Falls.

The 96th, with more than 1,000 reservists from Utah, Idaho and Montana, will conclude its two-week summer camp Saturday.

During the past four days, units have been in the field under simulated combat training.

79'ers Set 43rd Annual Meet on Sept. 12

ALBION, Aug. 27—The 43rd annual meeting of the 79'ers association will be held Sept. 12 at the Albion grade school, reports Charles Sears, Elba, president of the pioneer group.

The 79'ers association probably is one of the oldest active groups of its kind in the state, he noted, and has a long, colorful and productive history.

The first meeting of the organization was held Sept. 28, 1921, in Burley with John F. Hansen as chairman. Seventy-three Idaho Pioneers from Cassia, Twin Falls, Jerome, Minidoka, Gooding and Lincoln counties signed the roster to qualify as members under the temporary ruling establishing right of membership to those who came to southern Idaho prior to Dec. 31, 1879.

First president was Frank Riblett, who played a prominent role in the settling and development of southern Idaho. On April 7, 1875, Mr. Riblett secured the first teacher's certificate ever issued in the part of Owyhee which become Cassia county.

Appointed Cassia county surveyor in 1879; Mr. Riblett made the first survey for a canal out of the Snake river in the fall of 1887. Pioneer author and historian, Charles Walgamott, served for many years as official historian for the group.

In 1925 Hyrum Lewis was elected president and held this office until his death. Under his leadership the association grew rapidly and 1,000 attended in 1929. President Bocock of the Albion State Normal school made Albion and the normal school campus the permanent home of the 79'ers in 1925.

A blue spruce and triangular drinking fountain, built of native stone from mountains in the vicinity, honoring the pioneers still can be seen on the former Normal campus in Albion.

Present officers include Sears, president; Olean Lewis, Declo, first vice president; J. Vard Chatburn, Albion, second vice president; Mrs. Lula Sears, Albion, secretary; Mrs. John B. Chatburn, Albion, treasurer, and Mrs. Anna Hayes, Twin Falls; historian.

Awards Slated

RICHFIELD, Aug. 27 — The summer reading contest awards will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Richfield park.

Mrs. Joe Seward, librarian, announced nine students had completed the required reading of 15 books by Aug. 14 to be eligible for awards.

Take Honors

HAGERMAN, Aug. 27—Donald Hulme, Hagerman, member of the Snake River Ski club, took honors at the Tri-City Open water ski meet at Pasco, Wash., the past week-end.

Hulme copped the overall men's trophy, and became a member of the Century club by jumping 100 feet in a sanctioned tournament. He placed third in the men's jumping event. Mrs. Hulme took third place in the senior women's slalom event.

Candidates In Primary List Expenses

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Statements of expenses have been received from five of the candidates in the Aug. 4 primary but three others still have not been received by the secretary of state.

Idaho law requires that the statements be filed within 20 days after the election.

Republicans who ran in the second congressional district were Keith B. Schofield, Boise; Dick Smith, Rexburg, and George V. Hansen, Pocatello, who won the nomination, listed expenses of $2,318.00; Schofield said his campaign cost $3,891.24; and the statement of Smith had not been received.

The statement of Ralph Harding, the incumbent Democratic nominee, had not been received either.

In the first congressional district, incumbent Democrat Compton E. White, listed expenditures of $774.00.

His opponent, John Mattmiller, Kellogg, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination, said he spent $3,459.10 in the campaign.

E. T. Knudson, Boise, chief justice of the supreme court who won reelection on the non-partisan judicial ballot, listed his expenses at $1,266.48.

The statement of his opponent, Frank Benson, Jerome, had not been received.

Candidates for the senate are authorized to spend $5,000 on their campaign; a candidate for representative is authorized to spend $2,500.

Russian Official Visits Museum In Vatican City

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 27 (UPI)—The Soviet Union's number two man, First Deputy Premier Leonid Brezhnev, yesterday made a sightseeing visit to the Vatican City museum.

Brezhnev, the highest ranking Soviet leader ever to set foot in the Catholic citadel, spent over an hour visiting the Sistine Chapel and looking at sacred art treasures.

The Russian official was in Rome as leader of the official Soviet delegation to Italian communist leader Palmiro Togliatti's funeral. He was accompanied to the Vatican by Soviet ambassador to Italy Semen Kozyrev, an interpreter and two other unidentified persons.

Liquor Sales In Idaho Are Increasing

BOISE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The state during the past fiscal year sold $16,101,525 worth of liquor, largest total in history, and picked up a profit of $5,477,162.

That was the report today from liquor dispensary superintendent Fred M. Charlton, who directs sale of liquor in 118 dispensaries around the state.

Sales were up about $700,000 from the $15,330,579 of the year before, and profits rose $481,973.

The state takes a fixed ratio of profit, 45 per cent on every bottle sold. But Charlton said Idaho's prices are below those of neighboring states.

The counties will get 50 per cent of the profit, allocated on the basis of population, cities 15 per cent and junior colleges in Ada and Kootenai counties the same amount as those counties.

The remaining 42.5 per cent goes into the state's general fund.

The state sold $11,601,000 worth of liquor nine years ago in 1955 and the total has climbed steadily. Charlton attributed the increase to rise in population and higher prices.

THURSDAY, Aug. 27 — Born ay, you have as the basis of ur character an unusual degree self-reliance. However, your ability and instinct for service ill keep you from falling victim that domineering attitude hich so often mars people who e able to stand on their own o feet.

Although you are not adven- rous in the conventional sense, u have a great deal of that rsonal courage and integrity at make crusaders and even artyrs. Therefore, take care at you do not attach yourself any cause before you have vestigated it thoroughly other- ise, you devote all those good alities to an activity unworthy them.

Highly intelligent, you never- heless have a rather simple out- ok on the world. You trust eople implicitly, believing them basically good; even those who violently disagree with you over issues vital to your happiness, peace of mind and security cannot really count you their enemy; for "enemy" you refuse to be to any man.

Among those born on this date are: Theodore Dreiser, author; Lyndon Johnson, President of the United States; Cecil Scott Forester, English biographer.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Friday, Aug. 28

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—A day when Virgo may well have an opportunity to make a new and influential friend. Accept all invitations.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Make an effort to look at things as others do today. Strive for harmony of thought.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Business matters should end prosperously. Bear matters of health in mind as you undertake more difficult projects.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) —Exercise control over your various appetites. This is a day in which Sagittarius could well go overboard in excesses.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) —Don't let your temper get away from you today. Avoid those who customarily irritate you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) —An unusual adventure resulting in unexpected gain may well befall Aquarius. Be prepared to cooperate fully.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — A good time for going over the budget to cut out burdensome expenditures. The reason will become clear in the immediate future.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)— Instead of showing jealousy, make an effort to appear truly glad over another's well-deserved success.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)— Your quick wit should lead you out of possible danger by afternoon. Move with speed but also with great consideration.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — The Gemini who has shown foresight should have a remarkably good day. Make sure your correspondence is up to date.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Your cooperation with co-workers should be mutually beneficial. Take advantage of your ability to handle people.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—A day charged with vital impulses for the Leo who has a reserve of energy. Much to be gained now.

IGA FOOD MAGIC! by Eddie Doucette

GLAZED, BAKED HAM

Glazing your ham adds eye appeal, lustre, plus intriguing flavor. Criss-cross lines into fat with sharp knife. Stick whole cloves into each diamond of fat. Place in roasting pan with 2 cups 7-Up or Gingerale. Cover, bake in 350° oven 30 minutes per pound. (These fully-cooked hams only require heating through) When heated through, brush with brown sugar softened with prepared mustard, or just plain sugar, or honey. Return to 450° oven until mixture carmelizes. Try decorating with pineapple slices, marischino cherries . . . Let your imagination take over.
